CRISIS LOOMS IN SACRAMENTO FIGHT

Former Official Facing Trial On Two Serious Charges

(United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3.—Veiled threats against the life of Edgar Fuller, former Kleagle of the Sacramento Ku Klux Klan, have sent Fuller into hiding.

He arrived here at 12:15 o'clock this morning, returned from Oakland by local police to appear in habeas corpus proceedings today, the result of a libel suit filed against him in August by W. R. Cook, then a candidate for sheriff.

Fuller's bondsmen yesterday surrendered him, following the split in the local Klan organization. He was arrested yesterday afternoon in Oakland.

When informed that Fuller had been returned to Sacramento, Mirle Moran, deputy Kleagle, said: "The best place for Fuller to stay if he returns to Sacramento is in jail. I cannot control all the men in the Klan and there is an intense bitterness held by most of them toward Fuller."

Fuller, free on $1250 cash bail put up by his mother, who was waiting here when he arrived, refused to make known his whereabouts. Interviewed by newspapermen he declined to state whether he knew where his wife and child are, whether he would file counter charges against Klansmen who have accused him and would make no comment upon the present Klan situation.

Beside the libel complaint, Fuller is facing a charge of violating the election laws, alleged to have distributed circulars to have come from the "Catholic Welfare League" and warning Catholics to "vote their ticket straight." J. P. Monahan former member of the Klan, swore to the misdemeanor warrant in the election charge. Ball in this case was set at $250 cash, in the libel case $1,000.

B. R. Tooke, deputy Kleagle, arrived from Oakland last night and surrendered to the police to face charges of embezzlement preferred against him by Fuller.

The ink on Thomas Kinnamon's commitment to San Quentin for a maximum term of fourteen years was scarcely dry before his wife, Mabel Kinnamon, had filed suit today for divorce against him.

Kinnamon, whose petition for probation, heard last Friday, was refused today by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, was given a term of from six months to fourteen years.

Wife Smiles at Fate
His wife, hearing of his fate, smilingly requested Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozely to prepare the divorce papers.

The suit merely alleged that Kinnamon, in disregard of his marriage vows, had issued a worthless check, a felony for which he was sentenced to serve a term in prison.

Wants Girls to Demand Of Prospective Mates Bill of Health

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The man who marries a graduate of Chicago high schools will be required to produce a clean bill of health signed by a reputable physician, if plans of school authorities are adopted.

Superintendent of Schools Peter A. Mortenson will bring the matter before principals of the schools here Saturday.

His plan would require a pledge from every girl that she would marry no man who was not physically fit for marriage. About 4500 young women graduate from Chicago schools yearly.

Mortenson's plan includes the teaching of eugenics to graduating high school classes. Despite the objection of members of the board of education, a strong effort was launched today to have personal hygiene included in the regular course at grade schools.

TWO BANDITS DIE IN MAIL THEFT PLOT

Robbers Killed by Shower of Bullets from Federal Agents
Who Had "Tip" on Hold-Up.

WITTENBERG, Mo., Nov. 3.—The bodies of Jack Kennedy, 55, of Memphis, and Harvey Logan, 21, bandits who made the daring but unsuccessful attempt to hold up Frisco train number 805 from St. Louis to Memphis, were held in the morgue here today.

William T. Debow, a companion of the slain bandits, who escaped, was later taken into custody at Memphis.

Both were shot dead as they leaped from the flying locomotive with their plunder. Postal authorities were "tipped" to the robbery three weeks ago and a squad of eleven men ambushed the bandits.

The bandits and federal agents slept at the same hotel in Cape Girardeau, Mo., Wednesday night, it was learned today.

Kennedy had served a sentence in the Missouri penitentiary.

TURK ASSEMBLY OUSTS SULTAN FROM POWER

(United Press Leased Wire)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 3.—New Turkey has abolished the Sultan.

The Nationalist assembly at Angora passed yesterday a law suppressing the Turkish Sultanate and the law of succession to the throne. The present Sultan, descendant of a thousand absolute monarchs, is to be the last of his line.

A khalif who will take over the holy duties hitherto exercised by the Sultan as prophet of the Moslem world, is to be elected periodically. His office is to be of the church, not the state.

SCHOOL GIRL DIES UNDER MAN'S CAR JUMPS OFF FOR N. Y.

Darts from Father's Auto Directly Into Path of Oil Man's Machine

(United Press Leased Wire)
SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 3.—Lieutenants John A. MacReady and Oakley Kelly, attempting a world record non-stop flight from San Diego to New York today, have safely passed through one of the treacherous mountain ranges that make their journey extremely hazardous.

They passed over Temecula Gap safely this morning and sped away to the east, crossing the desert with ideal flying conditions to aid them.

The second dangerous test awaits the airmen this afternoon at Tumacacuri, New Mexico, where they must ascend to an elevation of 6,000 feet to cross the mountain range.

This crossing, airmen here said today, might prove the most dangerous of the entire trip.

North Island flyers are of the opinion that the intrepid airmen will succeed in their hazardous flight, unless unforeseen accidents occur.

The escort plane that left here with Lieutenants Kelly and MacReady returned at 10:35, the airmen reporting that they flew with the non-stop flyers to Yuma, Ariz., and saw them start from there into clear weather to the eastward.

Carrying the greatest load ever lifted from the ground by a single motor, Lieutenants Kelly and MacReady got away at 5:59 this morning to a perfect start on their long flight.

One month ago, starting on the same course, Kelly and MacReady were blocked by heavy clouds in a mountain pass. The tremendous load they carried would not permit them to pass over, so they turned their flight into an endurance flight, and broke all world records with a sustained flight time of 35 hours and 18 minutes.

The plane in which the airmen ride is a special army transport monoplane driven by a single Liberty motor. It is standard in all respects except the capacious fuel tanks, which are built into the wide wings of the monoplane. These tanks, when the giant plane left the ground, held 732 gallons of gasoline, 25 gallons of water and 31 gallons of oil.

Lieut. Kelly piloted the great airplane on the take-off. Last night the aviators tossed a coin to determine who should take the responsibility of getting the heavily laden plane off the ground.

Here's Plane Route.
The route to be followed by the airmen across the continent goes very close to or touches these points:

Yuma, Tucson, Deming, Tucuman, Wichita, St. Louis, Terre Haute, Dayton, Johnstown, Harrisburg, Trenton, Mineola. They expect to make the trip in 30 hours.

Several thermos bottles with water, hot coffee and a large supply of sandwiches will be the non-rusticament used by the flyers on the long trip. A heavy cushion weighing in the neighborhood of thirty-five pounds was removed from the plane shortly before the start of the flight to make the load lighter.

MRS. CLARA PHILLIPS.
Charged with the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, whose story of the slaying has placed the brutal murder in an entirely different light. Today she was being subjected to a severe cross-examination by the prosecution whose star witness, Peggy Caffee, has been accused by the prisoner as the one who struck the first blow with the hammer.

THREE JUMP TO DEATH IN N. Y. BLAZE

Girls Trapped by Flames in Celluloid Comb Factory Killed in Attempt to Escape.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Three girls were killed and several others injured here today when they leaped from the upper story of a blazing three-story factory on East Thirtieth street, according to police reports.

A fourth girl will die, police said.

The girls, trapped were employed in the Henry Schreiber factory, the principal product of which is celluloid combs. The flames flashed through the establishment instantaneously. Persons nearby were first warned of the blaze by an explosion of the celluloid.

Two of the victims were said to have been instantly killed when they jumped from the fire-licked windows. Others also jumped, falling injured before a horrified crowd on the sidewalk below.

NAVAL PLAYERS TRIUMPH OVER PENN STATE

(United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Penn State, undefeated in three years, was whitewashed here today by the powerful football machine from Uncle Sam's naval academy.

Excelling in the forward passing game which has featured their play throughout the season, the Midshipmen scored one of the greatest football triumphs in their history by winning 14 to 0.

PHILLIPS WILL NOT TESTIFY IN TRIAL

State Hopes to Shatter Testimony Peggy Struck
Mrs. Meadows

(United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Clara Phillips was in tears but her account of the hammer murder was unshaken when the noon recess in her trial was taken today.

She wept when on cross examination she was asked to tell of her attempt to commit suicide when she learned that her husband loved another woman.

For nearly two hours she maintained her composure under the severe questioning, and succeeded in avoiding any admissions damaging to her testimony that Peggy Caffee, former chorus chum, struck the fatal blow.

Clara's story against Peggy's. This, at noon, appeared to be the choice that will be given to the jury in determining the fate of Mrs. Phillips, accused by her former chorus girl chum, Peggy Caffee, of having beaten Mrs. Alberta Meadows to death with a hammer.

As Mrs. Phillips was being subjected to a searching cross examination her contention that Peggy struck the fatal blow, Defense Attorney Herrington announced that he would not call Armour Phillips to support his wife's story.

Will Not Call Phillips
Herrington evidently had decided the psychological effect of having Phillips attack the reputation of the murdered girl would be more detrimental than helpful, and determined to pit Mrs. Phillips' story against that of Peggy Caffee, trusting to the insanity plea to bridge the gaps in his client's account.

A large corps of extra deputies patrolled the corridor and held in check the largest crowd that has yet attended the trial when Mrs. Phillips, looking drawn and pale, took the stand for cross examination.

Deputy District Attorney Fricke, speaking in crisp, eager tones, leaned over across the table to ward her as he asked her about her trip to Mount Baldy on which her husband had accused her of spending the night with another man.

Clara denied that her husband's charge was true.

The prosecutor, his eyes squinting behind eyestraining glasses, then began questioning about the fatal drive.

Quizzed On Drive
"On this drive, who directed what course Alberta Meadows should take?" he asked.

PEON SKIRT CAUSES RIOT OF STUDENTS

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—With the peon pants craze spreading to girl students in the form of Spanish skirts, trouble over the new and eccentric costume has broken out afresh at Franklin high school.

A half dozen girls who appeared at school in costumes resembling peon pants were threatened with punishment by fellow co-eds.

Three youths who defied the warnings of other students and who appeared in peon pants were promptly seized by groups of students. One was taken to the campus, placed in the center of a circle of students and suffered the supreme indignity of having his peon pants removed by force.

The garb of the half dozen female offenders was as near peon pants as convention would permit. Along the sides of the skirts worn by these champions of sartorial freedom were rows of pearl buttons, similar to those which grace the sides of peon pants. Rows of criss-cross lace also decorated the improvised costumes. Huge varicolored sashes, the badge of the true peon pants devotee, were tied about the waist of the half dozen peoners.

MOTHERS WHO DRESS LIKE FLAPPERS ARE SCORNED IN SPEECH

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Mothers who "dell up" like their daughters are hit in an attack on fashions by Frank Alva Parsons, speaking before the School of Domestic Arts and Sciences.

"Baby blue has an age limit," Parsons declared, "and mothers should not attempt to follow the styles of the younger generation." Other fashion "dead lines" were outlined by Parsons, president of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts.

A list of don'ts was presented by Parsons for the woman who would dress in taste. They are:

"Don't wind girdles around your knees. God gave you a waist line, but He knew better than to throw it so far down."

"Don't wear furs in the summer."

"Don't ask yourself 'how does it look?' Ask yourself where you are going when you get it on."

but their details are held as government secrets.

Pilots Change Shifts.

The pilot seat in the plane is situated almost at the tip of the nose of the plane, to the left of the motor. The second pilot rests in the cabin until the six hour period of duty is up. The second pilot then takes hold of the rear controls. The pilot in the nose of the plane relinquishes the controls and goes to the rear cabin, takes the controls from the exchange pilot while the latter goes to the nose of the plane to take the controls.

The complete flight is expected to take about 30 hours if no adverse weather conditions are encountered. Should the flyers run out of gasoline before the end of the flight at Mineola a landing will be made at either Baltimore or Washington according to plans announced before the start of the flight.

GIRL ELECTROCUTED WHILE IN BATH TUB

FRESNO, Nov. 3.—Miss Althea Foley, 23, of Fresno, met death by electrocution in a bath tub at her home at 716 O street.

It is believed that death came when she attempted to reach for a towel which had been placed on an electric heater before she entered the room.

Her body was found by the family half an hour after she entered the bath room, lying across the edge of the tub with her right arm clasped to the heater. Her right arm was badly burned. It is believed death came instantly.

SLAYING STORY UNSHAKEN BY PROSECUTION

standing at the edge of the jury box, with his eyes closed, started suddenly and roared an objection. The court sustained his contention that this was not proper cross examination.

"When was the first time on July 7 you saw Mr. Phillips?" Fricke amended.

Clara said Phillips came home about noon, and Fricke demanded what was the first thing Phillips said.

"He said, 'You spent the night at Camp Baldy with another man,' I said, 'I did not.'"

Witness Shows Chagrin Fricke then demanded that she repeat her description given yesterday of this conversation.

Clara, chagrined, declared she could not remember exactly.

Did Not Believe Story Fricke by pitiless questions forced Mrs. Phillips to admit that she now remembers certain incidents after the murder that she said she had forgotten.

She admitted, too, that she did not believe her husband even when he told her that he and Mrs. Althea Meadows, the murdered girl, were in love.

Many of the prosecutor's queries she met with the statement that she could not remember. Once or twice she showed impatience at his insistence, and when ordered by the court to answer one question, she exclaimed hotly:

"As God is my judge, I didn't say those things, Mr. Fricke."

She appeared to make a real effort at recalling some of the things she was asked.

Tries to Remember

"Yes," she said in reply to one question, "I said I couldn't remember coming into court with Mr. Aggeler (the public defender who at one time represented her). After I got back to the jail last night I lay there and thought and thought, trying to get my mind together so I could remember some of the things you asked me."

"You remember saying things to the judge when you were in court then?"

"Yes," she admitted, "I remember that now."

Just before the recess was taken Fricke asked her about the attempted suicide regarding which her sister had testified.

"When you went into the bathroom, did you intend to commit suicide?" he inquired.

"I certainly did. I took the first thing I saw—it was lye. I was about to drink it when my sister grabbed my arm."

"What happened then?"

Mrs. Phillips covered her face with her handkerchief and wept.

Unable to Remember

"I don't remember," she said finally and insisted she could recall nothing further.

Her sister had testified that she was taken with an epileptic convulsion.

Fricke could not make her deviate from the story she told of purchasing the hammer.

"You saw a great many hammers in the store?" he asked.

"I didn't pay much attention to them."

Fricke asked if she had not testified that Peggy called her to the hammer counter, and she replied that Peggy called her and asked to borrow some change, that she gave her a quarter, and that the girl wrapped up the hammer and gave it to Peggy.

"Didn't you ask the girl for the heaviest hammer she had?"

"Mr. Fricke," said Clara defiantly, "I absolutely did not."

Fricke today declared he would attack from every angle Mrs. Phillips' story that she, Miss Caffee and Mrs. Meadows went to the secluded "death scene" after Mrs. Meadows admitted her love for Phillips.

In the struggle that followed, Mrs. Meadows had her mercy. Mrs. Phillips testified, declaring that Peggy came to her rescue from a nearby automobile and knocked Mrs. Meadows down with a hammer. Peggy previously denied striking the blow.

Fricke planned to dwell on the fact that Clara declared she did not remember anything following the first blow of the hammer, which, as photographs show, was apparently wielded many times.

TOLD HOW TO LIVE LONG; PROVES IT; PASSES AT NINETY

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Dr. R. Norman Foster, former professor of obstetrics at Hahnemann college proved his theory of longevity by living to be 90 years old. His prediction ten years ago was recalled when he died at Ocean, Calif., recently.

When 80 years old Dr. Foster told his Sunday school class here how to live to be 90 years old, by observing his twelve rules:

Do not eat too much.
Do not drink too much, especially of intoxicants.
Do not work too hard or too many hours.

Do not work too little—better to work for nothing than to be idle. Do work that is for common good; all other is destructive.

Take just what sleep experience proves right.

Use recreation not for its own sake, but for new vigor.

Do not always be in a hurry. Dress first for comfort, then for style.

Avoid worry; it enfeebles mind and body.

Shun all trespasses against the plain physiology of your existence.

Thus lay the surest foundation for life of the spirit here and hereafter.

During his medical career Dr. Foster estimated he brought more than 3000 Chicagoans into the world.

WILD WEST PICTURES BARRED FROM SCREEN IN 'BARBAROUS JAVA'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Bill Hart may bring back to delighted America all the thrills of the wild and woolly west, but he will never ride across the silver sheet in Java. Hair rising dramas of the old time West, such as pack the movies of the highly civilized United States, are strictly banned in far off Java, as are any pictures containing a "criminal suggestion," reports American Consul Parker at Soerabaya to the Department of Commerce.

Outside morals are not regarded very highly in Java, Mr. Parker's report indicates. About 35 per cent of all imported pictures either are refused by the censors or cut. American motion pictures, however, are riding on the crest of the movie craze which has swept the land of coffee.

Stop the Unlawful Practice of the Law

PROPOSITION NO. 24

To the Voters of Orange County:—

An act was adopted by the legislature at its last session and approved by the Governor, to protect the public by regulating the practice of law. This law now comes before the voter by referendum, invoked by certain trust companies which are profiting by the continuation of present abuses. This proposition will be submitted to you for your vote thereon, on November 7th, under Proposition No. 24, on the ballot.

This law is necessary to protect the public against the practice of law by two classes of unauthorized persons: First—lawyers, disbarred by the courts as unworthy of confidence, who under the guise of office practice impose upon the public; second—certain trust companies engaged in the practice of law for the purpose of securing control of large estates for their own profit by writing wills, wherein they name themselves executors and trustees.

Form WILLS, prepared and used by these trust companies show the character of this abuse. These wills tie up the estate in the hands of the trust company for a long period of time; it permits the trust company to exchange securities owned by it which may be of doubtful value for sound securities accumulated by the deceased. In this and other ways it attempts to nullify provisions of the law, made for the protection of widows and orphans. To doubly secure the trust company's grasp on the estate, the wills further provide that any heir who contests the will or the trust shall forfeit his interest in the estate. It attempts to cut off the widow with one dollar if she dares to claim her share of the community property. The testator is thus induced to deprive his heirs of ordinary safeguards which the law provides against the unfairness and greed of the trustee, and the widow and children are made dependents of the trust company.

The trust officer who advises customers to sign such wills obviously is promoting the interests of the corporation which hires and pays him, and is not safeguarding the maker of the will. For no man can serve two masters.

The act expressly recognizes the right of any person to prepare ordinary business agreements and conveyances and give advice incidental thereto. Any person may draw a deed, lease, note, contract or any other kind of business instrument for himself or his neighbor. No bank or trust company is adversely affected in the transaction of its authorized and legitimate business.

The act does not prevent real estate agents, bankers, notaries public or other persons from drawing deeds, mortgages, options, leases, notes, escrows or any ordinary business instruments. Statements to the contrary are false and misleading, as any person can see by reading the act.

The act does prohibit disbarred attorneys, trust companies and other unauthorized persons from imposing upon the public by carrying on the practice of law as a business.

Similar laws in force in twenty-four states, including New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, have met with public approval.

Vote "Yes."

First, Dependability—Second, Right Price in Rubber Goods

It is so easy to buy an inferior product in rubber goods and thus waste money that one should be extra cautious, satisfying oneself on the quality and the making, or relying upon the merchant in whom we have confidence. The White Cross' large business in rubber goods, its carefulness, are worth consideration.

Hodgman's Molded Fountain Syringe

A molded fountain syringe is assuredly to be depended upon in quality. The Hodgman is made of the finest red rubber, is a shaped bottle. Excellent value at $2.00.

Water Bottles

Maderite Bottles They are MADE RIGHT, of fine grain rubber in chocolate color. The two quart size is moderately priced at $2.50.

Face Bottles Hot water face bottles should be in wider use—they are inexpensive at $1.00 and $1.25—in chocolate color.

Goodrich Bottles A fancy bottle of crisis cross design and with decorations. One of the famous Goodrich rubber products. Two-quart size, at $3.00.

Rubber Crib Sheets "Weetot" crib sheeting is made of processed rubber that wears exceptionally well and is absolutely water-proof. Price, $1.25.

UNIDENTIFIED YOUTH KILLED UNDER TRAIN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—An unidentified young man about 20 years old, was instantly killed here today when he stepped in front of an inbound Santa Fe passenger train at Aliso street crossing. Guards at the crossing who said they tried to stop the train, believed he might have purposely walked in front of the locomotive.

$20,000 IN CLOTHES SECURED BY BANDITS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Three bandits, surprised in looting the establishment of the United Cleaners and Dyers here early today, engaged owners of the plant in a revolver duel and when the latter ran out of ammunition locked them in a safe room and escaped with clothing valued at $20,000. This was the report of James and Leo Saracella to police whom they summoned to their plant.

ROTARIAN CRUISE TO HAWAII OPEN TO ALL

LONG BEACH, Nov. 3.—The deluxe cruise of the steamer H. F.
Alexander to the Hawaiian island beginning January 4 is open to all who care to make the trip and not to Rotarians only. William N. Bamford, agent for the Pacific Steamship company at 115 West Ocean boulevard, has been announced.
The big liner will take a specially conducted party on a sixteen-day tour under the supervision of the Crabtree travel office. The steamer is the former Great Northern with a speed of twenty-five knots.

NEWS BRIEFS

R. W. Binkley, who, with the exception of the past year, has been engaged in the grocery business here for the past sixteen years, has re-established himself in the grocery business at 1206
East Fourth street. Binkley today stated that at his new store he will give the same values and services that characterized other stores that he has operated in the city. He came to Santa Ana seventeen years ago and declares that today he is "twenty-five years younger" than when he arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Roden of New York, national distributors for Bel-canto toilet preparations, will give,
with the aid of a beauty specialist from Los Angeles, a free demonstration of the Belcanto face pack all day tomorrow in the Belcanto Beauty Shop, 405 West Fourth street, in the rear of Coleman's Women's Wear Shop, the proprietor of the shop announced today.
Beginning tomorrow, the Belcanto Beauty Shop will be open for business under the management of Mrs. Roy Criddle.

One Hundred and fifty men and women today were recalling features of all the amendments to be voted on next Tuesday, following a brief discussion of each of them by Walter Eden, William F. Men-ton and H. J. Forgy at the meeting last night of the First Presbyterian church. The discussions followed a dinner served in the basement to members of the church and Eden, a member of the church quartet, favored with vocal selections. Eden made a survey of fourteen of the propositions and Menton and Forgy discussed the remainder.

Thirty-five members of the Santa Ana Young Women's Christian association left here this afternoon for a week-end sojourn at Camp Lewis, the "Y" camp in the mountains above Modjeska. Miss Aelie Wilson, of the physical education department of the high school, Miss Anderson, the girls' secretary, and Mrs. Seymour, who will have charge of the meals, accompanied the group.

There will be a special public meeting in the Social hall in Winterburg Monday evening, November 6 at 7:30, for full discussion of matters to be voted upon the following day, with a view to a clearer understanding of the issues involved. A cordial invitation to all voters to attend.

Orange county organizations of the Parent-Teacher association and Congress of Mothers were today expressing their sympathy to the state president, Mrs. Harry J.
Ewing of San Jose, upon the death Wednesday, November 1, of her husband, H. J. Ewing. This took place at a San Jose hospital following an operation. In addition to his wife, Mr. Ewing is survived by four sons, all bearing names.

W. W. Kays, local architect, left today for Fresno, where he will enter the Barnet hospital for an operation on one of his eyes.

Miss Margaret Essau, registration deputy, this afternoon started work checking 351 names added to the petition filed with the council Monday night asking for an election to vote on a board of freeholders to frame a charter. It is expected the verification work will be completed in time to permit action on the petition by the council next Monday night.

Engineers of Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange and Santa Ana will meet tomorrow afternoon in the office of City Engineer W. C. Knox, of this city, to check up on bids for building the joint outfall sewer to the ocean.
The offers were received at an adjoined meeting of the Santa Ana council Wednesday evening. Award of the contract will be made at an adjourned session of the local council Wednesday evening. Reports of the engineers will be submitted to the four councils at a joint meeting in this city next Tuesday evening.

Ralph Smedley, Y. M. C. A. secretary here to supervise the construction of Santa Ana's proposed "y-young men's building" will address the meeting planned for Sunday night at the Congregational church in connection with the memorial services to be held at the high school auditorium at 7 o'clock, it was announced at noon today.

Unit holders of the Fifty-Fifty Oil company, operating in the Signal hill field, today were receiving dividend checks for amounts equivalent to 25 per cent of the investment, according to W. F. Heathman, city recorder, who is one of the local investors. Heathman said that a large number of Santa Anans hold units in the company. The dividend company owns five acres and is now preparing to sink the second well.
No. 1 is producing 2700 barrels a day, according to Heathman.

A food exposition is being conducted at the new California Market, Fourth and French streets, today and tomorrow, at which various food products are being demonstrated and served. Tomorrow evening between 6:30 and 8:30 o'clock a program will be given by an orchestra and L. H. Hill, proprietor of the California Bakery, will sing his original composition, "Putting on Style."

The county board of education will hold its monthly meeting at the office of Superintendent R. F.
Mitchell at 9 a. m. tomorrow.
Routine matters will come before the board, according to announcement made today.

MULE GOES ON SPREE
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—"Mystery," the moonshine drinking mule of Fred Benson, got his owner in jail yesterday. Mystery got ugly after several "drinks" of moonshine mash and chased several pedestrians down the street. Mystery and Benson will explain to the judge today.

REGISTER RADIO HEARD ACROSS CONTINENT

A message was received today from James W. Burns, Chester, Pa., saying:

"October 17. Your signals last night were readable here on detector and two-step amplifier. Am sure I made no mistake in the call, as I distinctly heard you announce KFAW three times, at about 11:50 p. m., (eastern time, about 3:50 in Santa Ana) and although not loud, the announcer's voice was very clear."

It is regarded as a remarkable thing that a man, speaking in an ordinary conversational tone, in the back room of the Register Building, should be clearly heard on the other side of the continent, without connection of any kind.

KFAW's program on the air last night was exceptionally pleasing, according to reports from local radio fans. The program by two quartettes from the choir of the First Christian church, directed by Hazel Landers Hummel, was given.

The male quartet, Will Gallenne, first tenor, Will Martin, second tenor, Edward Hummel, first bass, and Elmer Thompson, second bass, sang two groups,
both sacred and secular music.

The mixed quartet, Will Gallenne, tenor, Hazel Landers Hummel, soprano, Ethel Thompson, contralto and Edward Hummel, bass, presented several of their best numbers.

These musicians presented a number of duets solos, and trios.
Ethel Thompson played the accompaniment for all selections and also played piano solos.

MARKS ON S. A.
HOMES PROVE
'TEX' HERE

"Tex," the mysterious "Rattlesnake burglar," whose activities in the northern end of the county caused alarm, has visited Santa Ana, it reports received by the police are authentic.

At intervals last night and this morning police received calls from residents of the north end of this city, that the word "Tex" had been written or scrawled on their homes.

It was in this manner that the burglar made known his identity in Fullerton where he worked several nights ago.

About six weeks ago a similar chalk writing in the western portion of the city was reported.

PLANS FOR FASHION REVUE ARE COMPLETE

Final plans for the fur and fashion revue at St. Ann's Inn tomorrow night, under the auspices of Joseph A. Eliason, of the World Educational Films corporation, were perfected here today, according to Miss Rosella Davies, premier model, who will supervise the revue.

Fifteen girls, including several Orange county beauties, will display latest creations in furs and gowns, Miss Davies said. Among those who will appear in the revue are:

Misses Rosella Davies, Nadine
Mason, Hester Ashley, Clara Cook, Zola Powelson, Anita Orfin, Irene
Young, June Dale, Fritz Rawlinson, Virginia Dobson and others.
"Baby Betty," twenty-months-old moving picture "vampire," and Dorothy and Donald Hughes, 8 and 9 years old, respectively, of the Lasky studios, will also participate in the revue.

According to Eliason approximately $100,000 worth of furs and gowns will be displayed.

A dinner-dance will be held in connection with the travelogue series of the World Educational Film corporation.

VETERAN, AT DEATH'S DOOR, GIVES BUDDIES BIG FAREWELL DINNER

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Nov. 3.—
The story of a farewell dinner given by a dying soldier to 25 buddies became known today.
The soldier is Percy Evans, one of the first New Jersey men to enlist in the World war and one of the last to return.

Believing that not many more days on earth remained for him, Evans, suffering from tuberculosis after having been gassed, rose from his sickbed, taxied to the Washington society clubhouse, and, propped up on pillows, presided over the affair.

"Sing all you want, boys; make all the noise you want, fight if you want, he told them.
"I won't be with you much longer. I have arranged this little dinner to show my regard for you, my boyhood companions and many friends of later life."

"Fellows, I have only a few thoughts to give you. One is the feeling of a fellow on his back when a friend who visits him."

"I have been that way. It is surely a wonderful thing. I know that the church bell down the street will soon toll for me. I have always cherished the association of my friends and I wanted in this way to attest my regard for them."

Evans' voice broke at this point and his friends sat silently while he recovered his composure and called on a trio to sing.

ASSEMBLIES OF STUDENTS ARE BIG EVENTS

What were termed the best as-semblies of the year were the three student meetings at the high school and junior college this morning.

As the junior college and high school girls met in joint assembly in the auditorium, the high school boys met on the bleachers, while the junior college boys, in the music room of the high school, organized their new Y. M.
C. A.

Special yell practice on the bleachers, led by Lester Schroeder and Winifred Golden, was held.

Ralph Smedley, Y. M. C. A. building supervisor, addressed the boys on "Steam." He emphasized the importance of the right use of man power, pointing out the power which a united student body could have for good.

After staging, with Raymond Miles, a real army "scout," entitled
"Are You There, Bill?" R. R.
Miller, county probation officer, spoke on "Punch," telling the boys that their success depends upon their "punch."

Coming Show Advertised.
Elliott Best, student body president, dressed as a negro, was chased out in front of the bleachers by Bernard Thole who was attired in cowboy costume and shooting a big "forty-five." Their act advertised the coming junior college vaudeville show on November 10.

"The superiority of the American woman is recognized and envied by the women of the Orient.
The Orient is on fire for education."

These statements were made by Miss Nellie Nunn in her talk to the high school girls.

The assembly was opened by Constance Crookshank, Girls' League president, who spoke briefly of the need of a united spirit among the girls, and the importance of Girls' League work.

Yell Practice Held.
Louise Park and Marguerite
Bell, student body song leaders, led the girls in a brief yell practice.

Charlotte Zimmerman's girls' orchestra gave a clever jazz orchestra presentation on the stage and with Kathleen Trago staged an advertising act for the Junior College Orpheo Troupe show.

The girls in the orchestra were Charlotte Zimmerman, May Place, Ruth Thomas, Anna Grace McElree, Della Phillips, Laura Gould and Ciella Proulx.

The social service work of the league was described by Jane Griffith, who, attired in a comic costume of old clothes, spoke for the old clothes' drive for the Mexican children at the Fifth street school.

Honor Society Discussed.
The honor society and what it should mean to the girls was the subject of a brief talk by Enid Twist, president of the society.

An athletic stunt consisted of a clever one-act play put on by Dorothy Clarkson, Dorothy Hurd and Enid Twist, under the direction of Ruth Finley.

Irene Jacques, graduate of Santa Ana high school, and new girls' physical education director at Anaheim high school, spoke on "Girls' Athletics and Good Sportsmanship."

"A good sport is a girl who can lose a game without losing her temper and can win without getting conceited," said Miss Jacques.
"Romeo and Juliet" was the title of a modern version of the famous love story, staged by Virginia Thatcher, Edie Jessup and Alice Richards. Their act brought forth hearty applause.

Oriental Talk Pleases.
Miss Nunn's talk was greatly appreciated by the high school girls. She spoke of the different classes of women in the Orient, of the way in which little girls are sold by their fathers and then become entertainers, a class of women who will be freed only by the work and influence of American and English women workers.

"Japan and the Orient are on fire for girls' education," said Miss Nunn in pointing out the advantages enjoyed by American girls and the great needs along this line in the Oriental countries.

A Junior College Y. M. C. A. was organized at the assembly of the Junior college boys.

Twenty have signed up already and more are expected, according to the report of the meeting.

"Only the fellows will be members who are willing to live up to the high ideals of the Y. M. C.
A.," said George Gerwig, one of the leaders in the organization.

Election of officers will take place on November 13.

MAN'S BROTHER ACCUSED IN CAR THEFT

Accused by his own brother of the theft of an automobile, Harry Anderson, asserted companion of Mrs. E. T. Vos Burgh, arrested at San Diego Wednesday on a bad check charge originating in this county, was arraigned here today before Justice J. B. Cox, who set November 13 at 2 p. m. for the preliminary examination and fixed bail at $1000, which Anderson was unable to supply.

Anderson's brother, Claude, charged the larceny of an automobile valued at $400. According to the complainant, Harry Anderson stole the car in order to visit Mrs. Vos Burgh at San Diego. On the way to the southern city, at La Jolla, the car was wrecked and Harry was injured.

When Mrs. Vos Burgh, after kissing her husband and children farewell, disappeared several weeks ago, it was thought that harm had come to her. It was not until officers were notified of her alleged worthless check operations that her whereabouts became known.

She fled when a warrant for her arrest was issued. It had been known, according to the sheriff's office, that Anderson knew where she was. He was asked to persuade her to return to this city, and had agreed to do so when he started, in the alleged stolen car, for San Diego.

Mistrusting him, however, the officers telephoned to San Diego police to arrest the pair.

Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel, finger print expert, who had been conducting the investigation, brought the couple back to the Orange county jail last night.

NEW POST OFFICES WIN SENTIMENTAL TITLES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—This postoffice department of our is getting entirely too sentimental.

The current issue of the postal bulletin announces the appointment of new postmasters at Lovington, N. M.; Pridal Vell, Ore.; Heart Butte, Mont.; and Roseland, La., all in one day.

Not satisfied with that, a new star service route is announced out of Valentine, Neb., and mail messenger service is discontinued from Lovelock, Cal.

COUNTY SOLONS WIN AS WRIT IS QUASHED

Holding that there was sufficient evidence to indicate the existence of a serious flaw in the preliminary steps that had been taken in connection with the proposal to incorporate the town of Placentia, Superior Judge Z. B. West here this afternoon dismissed a writ of mandamus issued against the board of supervisors at the request of proponents of the movement.

The error, the court ruled, consisted in the fact that no evidence had been adduced before the board to show whether there were, within the boundaries of the proposed city, the number of persons required by law, 500.

It was recalled that this flaw did not exist when an earlier incorporation petition, later abandoned because of differences as to the territory to be included, was filed with the board. A subsequent petition, however, in connection with which the supervisors refused to call an election to vote on the incorporation and which resulted in the present mandamus proceedings, did contain the error, the court held.

District Attorney A. P. Nelson represented the supervisors, Attorney Guss Hagenstein of Fullerton the faction at whose instigation the writ was issued, and Attorney H. C. Head the enemies of the movement to incorporate under the boundaries as at present proposed.

HEARING AS TO INJUNCTION DELAYED

Indications in the court of Superior Judge Z. B. West at 2:40 p. m. today were that because of pressure of other cases the hearing on the injunction suit brought by the district attorney against the Santa Ana Sugar company to abate an alleged nuisance due to malodors arising from ditches carrying waste from the plant, would not begin before 3 p. m., if then.

The hearing was to determine whether a temporary restraining order should be issued against the sugar firm.

EDITOR TELLS PUPILS WHAT MAKES NEWS

FRANKLIN, Ind., Nov. 3.—The attitude of the modern newspaper is that of a secretary or a historian, and it assumes no more responsibility, George C. Bistian, assistant Sunday editor of the Chicago Tribune, said in an address to Indiana college and high school students.

Giving a demonstration of what he termed news arithmetic, Bistian said:

Gives Rules.
"One ordinary man plus one ordinary life equals zero in news."

"One ordinary man plus on extraordinary achievement equals news."

Explains 'Real' Paper.
The optimist mistakenly assigns to the modern newspaper a moralistic mission, while the pessimist makes the mistake of regarding the newspaper as untruthful and superficial. The real newspaper, he said, records news events impartially and without favor in its news columns, receiving comment for its editorial columns or signed articles.

The newspaper, he observed, does not create events, but merely chronicles them and the ideal reporter is the fair, impartial observer. The newspaper, he said, spreads a complete record of today's problems, victories and defeats before man, that he may, if he will, pass judgment on himself and determine to be a little better tomorrow.

Calls It a Myth

Will a snake stop when it comes to a rope? Oldtimers in the West placed a hair rope about their blanket when sleeping on the plains in the days Philip Ashton Rollins, the historian of the cowboy, writes about, but Rollins in his history makes no mention of the method. What do the readers think of the idea? In the American Forestry Magazine Will C. Barnes, another oldtimer, writes: Many years ago in central Arizona a small body of United States Cavalry was camping for the night at a desert water hole. The chief packer, an oldtimer in the Southwest, went to considerable trouble to make himself as comfortable as

BOYS FOUND IN WILD CHATTER LIKE BEASTS

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 3.—Two small boys about 8 and 10 years old, have been returned to civilization after living in a forest for an indefinite period like their prehistoric ancestors.

The two boys were caught in the thickly wooded hills of Pulaski county after a long chase by a sheriff's posse. The youngsters, dressed in rags and unable to speak, fought like little wildcats against being captured, scratching and biting members of the posse before their childish strength finally succumbed.

Their existence was first discovered by a woman who noticed them while walking through the forest. She notified the sheriff and he set out in search. After several days' of patrolling the wooded hills they struck into the deeply wooded section and caught sight of the children.

he could, and after his bed was made he took a hair rope about thirty feet long and carefully laid it on the ground clear around his bed and about a foot from it at every part.

I asked why. "To keep out rattlers" was his prompt reply: "no rattlers going to cross a hair rope under any circumstances. The hair rope scratches their belly I reckon."

Thirty-five years of frontier life, leading me all the way from the Mexican border to the Canadian line, most of it spent in the "open," camping wherever night overtook me, justified the prediction of my packer friend, for I have seen the all encircling hair rope used by people of every kind, army officers, prospectors, sheep herders, cowboys, hunters, and tenderfeet of every grade.

At last in Utah I put the theory to a test. We laid the rope in a straight line where the snake must either cross or go around the end to avoid it. In large and small rings about him, and even when he was moving from us without any attempt on our part to direct his way or annoy him the rope was thrown in front of him over and over again without hindering his movements in the least. He went "over the top" each time with absolutely no hesitation or reluctance.

Treasure-Trove By Berton Bralcy

A mighty good thing to seek after Is laughter;
The blood, when we chuckle and snicker,
Runs quicker.

The doctors will tell you a snigger Gives vigor,
And jokes, if they're not too sardonic,
Are tonic.

It's really much wiser to frivol
Than snivel;
And folks shouldn't ever be frowning
On clowning.

The fellow whose jests set us shaking
And quaking
Is making life fuller of savor,
And braver!

While out of our throats we can jiggle
A giggle
We'll face any fate with no flurry of worry.

So here's to the bird at whose Chaffing
We're laughing.
Who turns all our woes and our troubles
To bubbles;

He's worth more than solemn-faced preachers
Or teachers,
And so on his brow we are pressing
Our blessing!

TELLS REALTY MEN CITY ZONING NEED

O. A. Vickey, member of the city planning commission of Los Angeles, today addressed the Santa Ana Realty board at its weekly luncheon at St. Ann's Inn. The speaker declared that Santa Ana should no longer delay development of a plan for zoning the city. He pointed out that it is easier to establish a program now than it will be when the city reaches a population of 50,000 or more. He outlined Los Angeles' policy in handling the situation developing from rapidly expanding business and industrial sections.

J. C. Hayden, local manager for the Southern Counties Gas company, announced that his company now has plans for extensive installations in the city and vicinity, and that public utilities are unanimous in their opinion that the greatest development in Southern California is scheduled for Santa Ana and territory immediately surrounding.

Summer Vacationers Recount Episodes of Their Trips

"Stay-at-home journeys" were enjoyed recently at a pleasantly informal afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. L. Marchant of Tustin when a little group of friends of the hostess responded to her invitation to reminisce over the tea-cups of their summer wanderings.

Canada, Mexico and the pleasant, rolling country ast of the Rockies were all visited by different ones of the afternoon guests and their spirited accounts of the different trips yielded a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon. To add vivacity to the affair, Mrs. Mit Phillips sang a number of solos in her usual charming manner, giving the old favorites as a wish for them was expressed. Miss Mildred Marchant, who assisted her mother in the duties of hostess, also added to the pleasure of the guests by a number of whistling solos.

Those who were present included Mrs. M. S. Makoskey, who spent the summer in Canada and in the extreme eastern part of the United States with Brooklyn as her ultimate destination; Mrs. D. V.
Tubbs, whose journeyings also embraced Canada and Iowa; Mrs. A.
J. Crookshank and her mother, Mrs. White, who chatted of their eastern tour; Mrs. H. H. Lewis, just returned from Old Mexico; Mrs. Mit Phillips, who spent the summer in her old Indiana home and renewed school friendships at the commencement exercises of her alma mater, and Miss Effie Crawford, who on Sunday last, returned from Iowa.

First Methodist Aid Society Meets

Ladies of the Aid society of the First Methodist church met in the Community house Tuesday in all-day session. Plans were discussed for the bazaar and cooked-food sale to be given in December. Among other arrangements, it was decided to postpone the sale from Dec. 1 to Dec. 5.

Fancywork and the making of aprons for the bazaar pleasantly whiled-away the hours and a delicious chicken dinner was served in the church diningroom at noon.

Perfected Plans for Ebell Bazaar to Open Thursday

The big Ebell Bazaar opens next Thursday promptly at 1 o'clock—and at that hour hot coffee and pie will be ready, and waiting at the Harvest Home booth, white elephants will be all groomed and ready for the parade in the white elephant booth, bargains will be crying for new owners at the bargain booth, fancy work, linens, cooked food baby clothes, art goods
—everything that is wanted for Christmas presents will be on display in some corner of the big fair.

Tomorrow is the big day when the articles for the booths must be delivered to the home of Mrs. J.
R. Medlock at 450 North Main street, for the marking committee to work upon. White elephants are to be delivered directly to Mrs.
Alice Harris at 715 Bush street, where she expects to give them a few days intensive training before they go on parade.

Mrs. John E. Gowen, who is to preside over the bargains, earnestly desires that all Ebell members look over their store of possessions for the purpose of finding an article or two which may appropriately go on sale in her booth.

Cooked food is to be delivered directly to the booth where it belongs on Thursday and Friday mornings before 10 o'clock.

The fair will provide an excellent place where the few old books that have been read and enjoyed, or that have been taking up shelves desired for newer ones, may find new and appreciative owners.

Dolls and toys are asked for, and an especially grateful "Thank you" will greet any one who can spare some feathery greenery for decoration of the booths. Asparagus plumosus, smilax and papyrus are particularly desired, and the decorating committee must have them at the Reid Motor Car salesroom, corner of Fifth and Spurgeon streets, on Tuesday afternoon.

The young boy told his mother that our shop was the swiftest second hand store he ever saw.

Smart Bridge Tea Is Presented at St. Ann's

Feathery chrysanthemums in a blaze of autumnal colorings, gave a festive appearance to the diningroom of St. Ann's Inn on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Walter Vandermast and Mrs. W. N.
Prince entertained with a bridge tea.

Fourteen tables were required for the series of games, which were all played in the eastern end of the spacious room, where the lovely masses of flowers were arranged in tall wicker baskets.
Hand embroideries were featured in the prizes, Mrs. Earl Morrow, scoring high with Mrs. Jack Hayden a close second, each receiving a handsome dresser scarf while a beautifully embroidered guest towel offered ample consolation to Mrs. C. D. Brown for her low score.

At the tea hour, the guests gathered in another section of the diningroom where tables, each adorned with crystal, candle sticks, flaunting gay shades in the lovely flower colorings of the chrysanthemums, were awaiting for the serving of the delectable tea menu.

Mrs. Vandermast and Mrs.
Prince were assisted in receiving and entertaining their guests by a little group of matrons including Mrs. Ray Chandler, Mrs. B. L.
Colvin and Mrs. H. H. Dale.

Wisconsin Neighbors Renew Friendship In California

A bit of northern Wisconsin seemed to have been transplanted to California soil recently when Mrs. M. W. Waite of 502 West Santa Clara street, chose to celebrate the birthday anniversary of her husband by calling together a number of their friends all of whom were former residents of Northern Wisconsin.

The affair was a complete surprise to Mr. Waite while an added surprise to both honoree and hostess, took the form of an immense birthday cake which the guests carried with them. This was added to the refreshment menu of ice cream, cake and coffee which Mrs.
Waite had prepared, and was thoroughly enjoyed at the close of the pleasant evening.

Those present included in addition to the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Waite, the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Strong,

Baptist Women Gather for Session of Extreme Interest

Women members of the First Baptist church enjoyed a most profitable day Wednesday at their regular monthly all-day meeting.
The morning hours from 9 till 12 were very busy ones, all present being employed on White Cross work, a great deal of which was accomplished.

At noon a most delicious dinner was partaken of and at 1:30 p. m.
the business of the society was disposed of. Mrs. Minnie Holmes capably filling her chair as president.

Mrs. Wheeler had charge of the devotionals, after which Mrs. Earl Elliott introduced the following speakers and their subjects:

Mrs. Childers, "The American Indian in California," an interesting review of their history since 1850; Mrs. Crane, "The Yosemite Indian"; Mrs. Trawick, a vocal solo; Mrs. MacAllister, "The Apaches"; Mrs. Frank Harris, vocal solo. Mrs. Peterson and Mrs.
McCoskey, both having lived among the Indians, talked interestingly on the habits, conditions and customs of the Navajo and Hopi tribes and showed a number of idols, baskets, bowls, etc., of Indian workmanship.

Miss Moonan, a missionary from Shanghai, China, sang beautifully a chorus in Chinese dialect and ended the very interesting afternoon with a fine talk on the Chinese.

Athena Club

Three o'clock Thursday afternoon found an eager group of Athena members gathered in the music room of the high school to enjoy an interesting program of California numbers.

The meeting opened with the secretary's report, followed by that of the treasurer after which the president appointed a committee to take charge of the float which the club will enter in the Armistice Day parade. The date of the Christmas party was announced as December 15. The girls then voted that the club present a flag to the school on Armistice Day.

After all business was disposed of, the program opened with the singing of "I Love You California" by a group led by Miss Eva Turton. "Just California" by John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, was given by Miss Alice Olive Forceer.

"Kansas Tourists" was presented by Miss Gertrude Scheffer as first tourist and Miss Virginia Biglow as second tourist. The former saw California in its beauty and wrote a descriptive poem in which sunshine, wonderful pepper trees, and sea breezes embodied his ideas of California.
The second tourist saw it under less favorable conditions, and wrote a reply describing a sun that baked one, pepper trees inadequate to keep its rays off, sea breezes and Santa Ana winds that made a cyclone seem meek, and ended by remarking that the Golden State could boast of but one good crop—the tourist crop.

Miss Frances Van Ness, accompanied by Miss Lizzetta Phillips, presented a violin solo, "The Barcarole." after which "Our Aunt From California," a clever little farce comedy, was enacted by the Misses Mary Nunn, Dorothy Forgy and Constance Crookshank as Felicia, Rosalie and Sally, the merry young girls,

Louise Parks as their mother,
Miss Aural Bauer as the California visitor and Miss Viola Ruttel as Mrs. Montaburn. The farce kept the club members in gales of laughter and closed the program which was greeted with expressions of keen enjoyment by the assembled audience.

Silk and Wool Dresses Coats and Furs

Garments that by reason of their simple attractiveness may be worn on many occasions, as well as those which tend toward novelty ideas; also the in-between styles are generously represented in the assemblage.

Attempting to fully describe these dashing new creations would be as futile as trying to duplicate the assortment.

Never have we seen anything to compare with the richness, the beauty, the charm of loveliness involved in this array of stunning garments that will rapidly attract the eye of fashionable women. Prices a little lower than their actual value, too.

CONVICTED FORGER IS SENT TO PRISON

Fred J. Martin, alias Miller, who, authorities claim, has a country-wide reputation for criminal operations, was sentenced by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today to serve from one to fourteen years in San Quentin. He had been tried and found guilty of issuing a worthless check.

Martin's arrest here several months ago followed a sensational episode during which he led Officer Frank Stewart to several points in the city in a vain attempt to establish his good standing here, and which culminated when Stewart fired several shots at him as he finally attempted to flee.

Martin and Thomas Kinnamon, who was also sentenced to San Quentin by Superior Judge Williams, will be taken to the prison tomorrow.

SOCIETY

Creative Arts

An evening of unadulterated pleasure awaited the members of the Creative Arts club gathered last night at the charmingly hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gustlin. The musical members of the little club had the evening's program in charge and an air of extreme informality characterized the whole affair.

"Music of the Modernists" was ably presented by Earl Fraser who illustrated his subject with characteristic compositions by Debussy, Maurice Ravel, Cyril Scott and a little group of talented Russian modernists.

The second half of the program was a presentation of Mr. Gustlin's own compositions and to add to the interest and charm of the recital, in each case, so far as possible, the person who had given the initial rendition of the composition, was asked to give the interpretation for the club members.

The beautiful and soul-stirring "Victory Prayer" was the first number, sung by a quartette composed of Mrs. Hulda Deitz, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Maurice Phillips and Earl Fraser. This was followed by a sacred song "The Lord is My Light," sung by Mrs. Deitz. Miss Edith Stearns of Newport Beach, then gave a cello solo, "Chans on Triste," after which the stirring song "Life," which is being so successfully incorporated in the programs presented by Cecil Fanning, was sung by Maurice Phillips.

Thoroughly charming was the diversified group sung by Mrs. Deitz, which consisted of four numbers, "Two Wee Eyes," "Morning, Noon and Night," "Thou Art Like Unto a Flower," and "Their Message."

"Spring's Invitation," sung by a ladies' quartette composed of Mrs. Russell Coleman of Pasadena, Mrs. Deitz, Mrs. Slabaugh and Miss Edith Cornell concluded the delightful program, and after the talented composer had received the admiring congratulations of the assembled club members, Mrs. Gustlin added to the pleasure of the evening by serving light refreshments.

Lively discussions of the modern school of music added interest to the social hour which was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin, Mrs. Deitz of Los Angeles, Mrs. Russell Coleman of Pasadena, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, Miss Edith Cornell, Miss Edith Stearns of Newport Beach, Mrs. B. D. Peterson, Mrs. A. L. Sortor, Miss Beulah May, Miss Doris Hutchins, Miss Evelyn Nunn, Messrs. Earl Fraser, D. W. Griffith and Maurice Phillips.

Mr. Gustlin presented each guest with a copy of the "Victory Prayer" as a beautiful souvenir of a delightful evening.

The next meeting of the club will be held the first Thursday night in December with the writers of the club to present the evening's entertainment.

Daughters of Veterans

Members of Tent No. 10, Daughters of Veterans, have been invited to attend the patriotic services of the American Legion to be held at the High school auditorium Sunday night. Mrs. Emma Chapman, president of the tent, has accepted the invitation for the members and has requested that as many as can possibly attend, be at the eastern end of the main corridor of the auditorium building, at 6:30 p. m. They will then take their places in the auditorium in a body.

DON PEDRO DAM IS ALMOST COMPLETED

MODESTO, Nov. 3.—Only 25,000 of 275,000 yards of concrete remain to be poured at Don Pedro dam. The work of placing the huge needle valves has started, according to Percy F. Jones, engineer for the Modesto Irrigation district.

The dam will be finished by December instead of January, unless exceptionally bad weather interferes with the work, Jones states.

The work of concreting the gate, through which the water of the Tuolumne river has been escaping, will start this week.

EARTH OLDER THAN SUN, MAN BELIEVES

LONDON, Nov. 3.—"I am inclined to believe that the earth is much older than the sun, and much older than the present structure of the universe," said Prof. A. W. Bickerton in a lecture at the Royal Botanic gardens.

"Pessimism," he declared, in rejecting the doctrine of eternal death, "is not the message of science; its message is an optimism higher and finer than any superstitious priestcraft or formal dogma. It is the teaching of the inspired Peasant of Nazareth."

Professor Bickerton deplored the present-day lack of interest in science among the general public.

U. S. MAY RETURN RUM SIEZED FROM ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The government may be compelled to release 250,000 gallons of whiskey seized from ships flying foreign flags outside the three-mile limit, and dismiss the cases pending in the federal courts against the liquor owners and ship operators.

This was indicated at the treasury department as a result of the precedent set in the release of the Canadian schooner Emerald with her cargo of 10,000 cases of whiskey.

The custom of wearing rings upon the thumb prevailed in England until the close of the eighteenth century.

Many experiments here and abroad have shown that liquid hydrogen is far the lightest of all known liquids.

Nearly one-fourth of the apples shipped in the United States are consumed in the three cities, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

TEACHERS OPEN LYCEUM BILL ON MONDAY

With Edward T. Bailey, internationally known speaker, scheduled to deliver an address at the high school auditorium next Monday night as the first number on the teachers' lyceum course to be given here this winter, J. A. Cranshaw, city superintendent of schools, today announced that the lecture also will be regarded as the second meeting of the Santa Ana teachers' institute with attendance to it compulsory for all school instructors.

Bailey's address, which is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m., will be preceded by a thirty-minute musical program rendered by high school students under the direction of Miss Margaret Wickes, supervisor of music, and S. J. Mustol, director of instrumental music.

The gathering will be held at the high school by reason of a delay in the arrival of seats for the junior high school auditorium, where the remaining programs on the lyceum course will be given.

Held Eloquent Speaker
Described as a speaker of great eloquence and power, Bailey, who recently completed a tour as a chautauqua speaker on one of the Redpath circuits, is expected to provide one of the most interesting lectures of the entire course. He will come here through arrangements made by H. G. Nelson, principal of the junior high school, and other local educators.

The Santa Ana high school or to the public. The charge for the chestra and both the boys' and girls' glee clubs of the institution will participate in the musical program.

Under the direction of Mustol, the orchestra, which is composed of twenty students, will make its initial appearance of the year.

A mixed chorus of forty students will sing "The Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust" and "The Soldier's Soliloquy," a number that was written by Clarence Gustlin, well known Santa Ana musician. Miss Wickes will direct the chorus and also the boys' glee club, which will render Galloway's, "The Gypsy Trail."

Five numbers during the lyceum will be given by outside persons of note, interspersed with programs by junior high school students. Ten entertainments will complete the course.

The next program will be given December 5, at which Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wells, for fifteen years well-known artists, who present an entertaining program of monologues, planologues, and for whom a clever little playlet has been written, will be featured.

Violinist To Appear
Irene Stofsky, who is a pupil of Henry Diamond, at one time director of the Chicago symphony orchestra, and who has, herself, gained great popularity as a violinist, will give a program January 22. She will be assisted by one or possibly two singers, it is believed.

Ratto To Appear
On February 9, John B. Ratto, character reader and impersonator, will be the feature of the evening. Ratto gives his readings in make-up to represent his characters. He makes up before the audience for the different parts.

March 19, the Troubadour quartet will entertain with instrumental and vocal solo and quartet numbers.

The entire lyceum course is open to the public. The charge for the entire series is $2 for adults and $1 for children.

The programs to be given by the Junior high school students will include operettas by the two girls' glee clubs which, when combined, consist of 150 voices. Harry Garsang will direct. The boys' glee club of fifty voices, under the direction of Miss Edith Cornell, also will render chorus numbers on the programs. The two orchestras of the school will be combined with Miss Dorothy Mead in charge.

DEMAND FOR GRAPES INCREASING IN S. F.

(United Press Landed Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Supplies of grapes were rather heavy but demand showed some improvement and prices were generally maintained. Seedless grapes in large lugs were received by several dealers and good stock sold from $2.50 to $3 per lug.

Receipts of nearby poultry are much lighter and dealers are drawing on the eastern states for much of their supply. Very little change is seen on most classes of poultry. Dressed turkeys are being received by most dealers and fancy stock is selling from 40 to 45 cents per pound.

City cold storages reported their holdings of apples yesterday at 170,566 boxes, an increase of 56,500 boxes during the week. A total of 101,155 sacks of onions are now held in storage, against 90,147 sacks last week.

No potatoes have yet been placed in local cold storages. Supplies light: Pineapples, grapefruit, oranges, lemons, plums, berries, peaches, artichokes, cabbage, spinach, peas, lettuce, beans, summer

DISMISS GIRL CASE JURY IN DEADLOCK

After having been hopelessly deadlocked twelve hours, the jury which heard the testimony at the trial of Roy Britton, accused of a serious offense against Zuelia Vaughan, Fullerton high school girl, was discharged at 2:45 a. m. today in the court of Superior Judge R. Y. Williams.

Next Friday at 9 a. m. was thereupon set as the time for determining the date of a new trial.

When the jury took its last vote the balloting stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal, it was understood.

Britton was arrested on allegations made by the Vaughan girl, who asserted that the act was committed at the Britton home at Fullerton following an alleged "wild party" last June.

The girl was found at Miami, Fla., whether she had fled, and was brought back here to testify against Britton.

ACCUSES ENTIRE CHORUS
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Meta Murphy didn't stop at one girl, when she filed her petition for divorce against "Rolls Royce" Murphy. She named the entire Polles chorus.

Supplies liberal: Bananas, figs, pears, apples, grapes, potatoes, cucumbers, tomatoes, peppers, celery.

Stocks, Markets and Bonds

WALL ST. JOURNAL
FINANCIAL REVIEWStocks Continue to Advance
In Big Rally on N. Y.
Exchange

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Although the rally was less violent than Thursday, stocks made further progress on the recovery from the abrupt decline earlier in the week.

On the rebound, more than four point increase in two days in the common stock of a company with the huge capitalization of the United States Steel corporation was sufficient evidence of the economic character of the recent shake-up.

This was corroborated by additional sharp advances all through the individual list.

The market closed higher. Closing prices included:

GRAIN PRICES DROP ON CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Grain prices closed lower on the Chicago board of trade today.

The decline came despite a quantity of bullish news and was caused by an apparent desire on the part of the local traders to take profits on slight bulges.

There was evidence of heavy selling pressure just before the close.

Heart to Heart Talk No. Four.

TO WHICH CLASS DO YOU BELONG?

Past experience has taught us some of the fundamental reasons why the large majority of people are either poor, or in moderate circumstances. Principally among these reasons are:

1. FEAR.
2. DOUBT.
3. LACK OF INDIVIDUAL THOUGHT.
4. LACK OF DESIRE TO HELP OTHERS.
5. SUSPICION OF FELLOW MEN.
6. A MIND CLOSED TO NEW IDEAS.
7. IGNORANCE OF BUSINESS PRINCIPLES AND MODERN BUSINESS METHODS.

It is a well established fact that approximately 95% of the whole population are dismal failures from the financial standpoint. It may be from FEAR or DOUBT or any of the above causes, but the fact remains, THEY HAVE FAILED.

AS AN EXAMPLE

is is very difficult many times to advance a new idea. 95 out of a hundred will condemn it absolutely without INDIVIDUAL THOUGHT or INVESTIGATION. BUT WHAT IS WORSE, IF THEY DO TAKE THE PAINS TO INVESTIGATE IT, THEY WILL ASK SOME NEIGHBOR, WHO IS PROBABLY LESS FITTED THAN THEY ARE TO EXPRESS AN OPINION, THEY WILL CONSULT SOME ONE WHO IS ALSO IN THE 95% CLASS WHO HAVE FAILED.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

yourself running to a tinsmith if you had a jumping tooth ache? NO. YOUR BEST FRIEND WOULD BE A DENTIST. And by this same token, folks, when you want to know what EARNING POWER of money is, don't CONSULT THE TINSMITH. Go to the man whom you know is a financial success, one of the 5% class. HE KNOWS WHAT FUNDAMENTAL BUSINESS PRINCIPLES ARE AND HOW TO APPLY THEM, AND HE IS APPLYING THEM SUCCESSFULLY EVERY DAY.

Comment on Measures on November Ballot

(The Register, under this heading, will present statements concerning various proposals to be voted on at the general election. Those statements may or may not be the views of The Register. They are presented for the information of The Register's readers.)

HELPFUL BOND ISSUES

Sacramento Bee—The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce sensibly is working for approval by the voters next month of the "Land Settlement Bond Act of 1921," No. 4 on the ballot.

It calls for a state bond issue of $3,000,000 further to carry out the policy adopted by the state five years ago, to promote land subdivision, small farming and increase of rural homes.

Under its provisions a tract of land was bought and subdivided at Durham, Butte county, where remarkable success has been had. Likewise at Delhi, in the San Joaquin, similar subdivision is giving good results.

Of the total issue of bonds to the amount of $3,000,000 specified, $1,000,000 would go to repay the state treasury the sum used to buy and improve the land at Delhi, and the remaining $2,000,000 would be devoted to the purchase and improvement of additional tracts for subdivision into small farms and laborers' allotments.

It should be understood fully that all money paid out for such purposes by the state under the present law is repaid in installments by the buyers, with interest. So the state loses nothing by this policy, but gains materially by increase of rural homes and of taxable property, and in other ways.

Voters should also bear in mind that this proposal No. 4 is entirely distinct and apart from the third proposition on the ballot, styled the "Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1921," which also is a very worthy measure.

No. 3 calls for a bond issue of $10,000,000 to be used for purchase, subdivision and improvement of land by the State Veterans' Welfare Board, to help ex-service men of all wars to buy farms on easy terms. An initial cash payment is required in every case, and title would be retained by the state until all payments had been made in full, with interest.

The bond issue of $10,000,000 thus would be not only helpful to ex-service men, but also a benefit to the state, in like manner with the results obtained at Durham and Delhi.

None of the money would be used as a bonus or gift, but all would be repaid, and the state would obtain assets more than equal to all expenditures under the act.

The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, and all other such bodies in California, well might work for approval at the polls of this proposal No. 3, in addition to No. 4, explained in the foregoing, as both are of the same general nature, and the state can lose nothing by either.

Let it be remembered that neither bond issue involves any increase of taxation. Each would constitute a revolving fund, with payments constantly coming in from buyers of homes and farms.

THE INITIATIVE ENDANGERED. Stockton Record: The initiative, a principle written into the laws of California through the efforts of Hiram W.

Johnson and the forces that backed him when he made popular government a reality in this state, is seriously endangered by Proposition No. 27 on the November ballot. This measure, itself an initiated amendment, proposes to increase the number of signers required to initiative petitions from 8 to 15 per cent of all the votes cast at the preceding gubernatorial election. If it becomes a law it will be practically impossible for the common people to get their measures before the public. It costs money to circulate petitions throughout the state and obtain signatures and only large interests seeking preference could afford it if No. 27 becomes a law. The proposal emanates principally from the opponents of the single tax law which has been so frequently and so overwhelmingly defeated by the voters of California. The anti-single taxers would make it so hard for this measure to be placed before the people that they would practically nullify the people's right to the initiative.

Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, in denouncing Proposition No. 27, says that the initiative has not been rashly used in California. Out of forty measures presented since 1911, only eleven have been adopted by the people. Wood says: "The proponents of this amendment know that an increase in the percentage of signatures will make the use of the initiative in matters of taxation difficult and practically nullify it. And that is the real object. They don't believe that the people can be trusted in matters of taxation. Therefore they ask the people to vote away in large measure the people's right to initiate laws relative to taxation. The proposed amendment strikes at the heart of popular government."

Voters as a rule cannot go wrong in following Will C. Woods. Certainly they will not in this instance, at least. Vote "No" on Proposition 27.

AGAINST SAMPLE BILL.

Protesting that No. 24 on the Nov. 3 ballot will be an added burden on the people of California, the Public Rights League is authority for the statement that this measure contemplates an extra tax on the public, a restriction on newspaper advertising and a bitter blow to business efficiency. The league asserts:

"The purpose of this measure is to prevent laymen giving any legal advice or service. Everyone is supposed to know the law. Everyone is supposed, by the courts, to have intelligence enough to keep out of jail. Admittedly, much legal advice is given by corporations through their officers, by realtors, by officers of labor unions, by tax experts—in fact legal advice is sought or given by business people daily."

"The California Bar association is the only organization favoring No. 24. They are spending a fortune because they will make a fortune if the people can be coaxed to vote No. 24 into an operative penal law."

"The defeat of No. 24, a law never demanded by the public, leaves conditions exactly as they are today. PHELAN IS FOR NO. 19. (By James D. Phelan, former United States Senator from California.)

I favor the passage of the Water and Power Amendment.

I have followed the discussion in the press with much interest. There are apparently two classes of objectors. First, those who are opposed on principle to municipal ownership of public utilities, and, secondly, those who are reluctant to entrust the operation of utilities to a commission appointed by the Governor. Then again, there are those who believe that the passage of the measure will impair the value of existing securities.

I am now, and always have been, in favor of the public ownership of such utilities. I do not see why every governmental agency is not equally exposed to the same thoughtless criticism of inefficiency and dishonesty in public office, which, if it had any force and prevailed, would leave us without any government at all.

I do not see that investors in the securities of existing private companies need to fear any loss, provided the companies are well managed. Indeed, it is one of the contentions of the opponents of the proposed law that private operation always is more economical and efficient.

The private corporations deserve praise for having developed the state's natural resources at a time when the state was not prepared to act, even though their principal incentive was the prospect of profit, which was subsequently realized.

There is no present purpose to acquire or directly disturb them. But California has now attained her full stature, and, following her highest interests and guided by the example set by nearly every enlightened country, seeks to own and control her own natural resources. So universal is the use of water and electricity, that to promote private control would confer, in effect, the powers of taxation—a governmental function—on private persons, which is inimical to the common weal and always fraught with danger.

Supervisory control of rates by the state is unsatisfactory and induces corruption, the greatest enemy of democracy. When great corporations have to go to a state commission for the fixing of rates, there is always the possibility of the use of corrupt influence, and the state should not needlessly expose its servants to temptations of that kind. Under the direct and responsible administration of the state's own resources, there is no danger of corruption. The public body under this law will not be exposed nor hampered in giving the people the benefits of good service and low rates. State success will react in a wholesome way on private companies. With low rates all around, new values will be created, burdens lifted and prosperity fostered.

So far as I see, the Act is well drawn. It may be amended at any time. Existing enterprises will continue to function. No private property can be taken under our constitution without just compensation.

It is well known that the existing companies do not begin to meet the demands of the state for water for domestic purposes and irrigation or hydro-electric power. Therefore, the new law will provide for supplemental service that is needed, but on a rate basis of five per cent of the cost, instead of nine per cent now allowed, without any draft, ultimately, on the taxpayers.

The authorized bond issue will pay for the approved construction of a utility, which shall be returned by the political subdivision using it, over a period of years, from the proceeds of the rates.

To sum up—To my mind, there is no question as to the right and duty of the state, as such, to own and control its natural resources; otherwise, combinations of private monopolies would exercise an intolerable power. From my wide experience, I believe that public bodies, guided and restrained by public opinion, render, on the whole, satisfactory service, and show weakness only when exposed to great temptations, which this Act, in principle, eliminates. For these reasons, I am of the opinion that every citizen, divesting himself of prejudice and seeking only the ultimate good of the state, should cast his vote in favor of the amendment.

Missionary Society

Differing from the usual meetings of the Woman's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church, was the gathering on Wednesday evening at 7:30 when husbands of members were invited guests.

Great bowls filled with vivid dahlias ornamented the church parlor. The regular program was presented with Mrs. James Brock and Enridge leading the devotionals. The program, a special one for Egypt, was in charge of Mrs. Anna Scott whose interesting talk was aided by lantern slides showing views of the foreign field.

Miss Rosaline Kellogg, secretary of the Little Light Bearers, reported a very interesting meeting held on Saturday when twenty-eight little folks and twelve mothers or grandmothers were present. The children were gathered around low tables and served with jello and animal crackers and each one received a favor of a little black and yellow basket filled with candies suggestive of Halloween.

Mrs. Tidball reported that the thanks offering meeting would be held Sunday, November 26, and urged all to be ready with their offering. Mrs. Warren, temperance secretary, urged all to get out on next Tuesday and vote yes on the Wright law.

At the close of the meeting all enjoyed a social hour during which the committee served fruitade and home-made cookies. The committee members were, Mrs. Annie Scott, Mrs. William Smart, Mrs. Scott Torrens, Mrs. Edwin Cox, Mrs. William Elsie, Mrs. Lockhart and Miss Mary Anderson.

LEGATEE SUES FOR $18,000 OF ESTATE

Indicating unexpected difficulties in the estate of Julian O. Royer, prominent Anaheim and Los Angeles man, who died October 7, Marie Ferand, the maid to whom he left the major portion of his $225,900 estate, today filed suit for $18,355.31 against the Anaheim Investment company, and Louise, Max and Mildred Royer, survivors of the deceased. The money was said to be due on a promissory note, written by Royer before his death.

According to Miss Ferand, in September, 1919, Royer issued to her a promissory note, in which provision was made for her to receive $1,200 a year during her life. This sum was to be paid in monthly installments. It was said.

Since that time, however, Miss Ferand alleged, she has received only $250. She asks interest at 7 per cent, and $1,000 attorney's fees.

Royer's will was filed several weeks ago. It left the widow and heirs a small portion of the estate, and the maid received the remainder.

In this will Royer asked that his offices in Los Angeles be maintained intact.

Noted as a criminologist, his collection of relics was regarded as one of the most complete in Southern California.

JUDGE THOMAS ON LEGION'S MEMORIAL PROGRAM

Prominent Santa Ana Jurist To Deliver Address at High School

PLAN FOR OVERFLOW

Local Pastors to Assist In Services In Honor of World War Dead

Judge W. H. Thomas and other prominent speakers are scheduled to deliver addresses at the union memorial services to be held under the auspices of the American Legion in the auditorium of the Santa Ana high school next Sunday at 7 p. m. It was announced today. The auditorium will be open at 6:30 p. m.

An appropriate musical program has been arranged, according to those in charge of the arrangements, and all patriotic organizations have been invited to take an active part in the ceremonies. Commanders of the respective organizations will be seated upon the stage.

Plan Overflow Meet
To take care of those who are unable to attend the ceremonies at the high school, an overflow meeting will be held at 6:30 p. m. at the Congregational church, it was announced.

Others who will address the meeting to be held in the high school auditorium include the Rev. J. G. Kennedy and the Rev. Otto S. Russell.

Arrangements to procure a pastor to address the overflow meeting at the Congregational church are being made.

The male quartette of the Presbyterian church will sing at the high school meeting. Leon Eckles, well known baritone, will contribute one or more solos.

Meet at Legion Home
Members of the local American Legion post were requested to meet at the Legion home in time to assemble for the memorial services. They will march to the high school in a body.

Memorial services will also be held Sunday in more than a score of Orange county churches for those men who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. At Fullerton, Yorba Linda, Brea and Orange union services will be held and be participated in by each of the churches.

Each of the posts of the American Legion throughout the county and their auxiliaries are planning to attend the services in a body as are a large number of other organizations who are planning to participate in the Armistice day celebration to be held at Fullerton November 11.

State-Wide Observance
Sunday will be known as American Legion Sunday and in addition to the observance of the day in Orange county ceremonies will be conducted throughout the state.

Union services will be held at Orange at the Presbyterian church.

At Fullerton the union meeting will be held in the Fullerton union high school. The services will be offered by the Rev. M. E. Bollen of the Baptist church and prayer by the Rev. E. R. Montague, of the Methodist church and the Rev. Walter Thornton of the Fullerton Christian church. The Rev. E. J. Statom will act as chairman. The services will be held in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, the musical program to be provided by the combined choirs of all of the Fullerton churches.

Individual services will be held in Anaheim. In the Methodist Episcopal church, services will be conducted in the morning by the

Should the United States Go To War With Turkey?

Being a Sermon Delivered by the Rev. Francis Watry, Formerly Pastor of the Unitarian Church of Santa Ana, (Now of Pomona), Sunday Morning, Oct. 21.

Foremost in the world problems confronting the United States today is the Turk. Insistent are the demands on every side that the Turk should be placed beneath the iron rule which would stop forever the ruthless slaughters which are credited to him and that the United States should interest itself actively in this problem. The situation has led naturally to the great question, "Should the United States go to war with Turkey?"

Taking this as the subject of his text, Rev. Francis Watry, pastor of the Unitarian church of this city, on Sunday morning delivered a sermon which will, doubtless in most cases, present the subject in an entirely new light. He takes issue with those who demand war against the Turks, asking why there should come this appeal for force from people of whom we have every reason to expect just the reverse.

His sermon follows: This is not an idle question. Nor is it out of place in the pulpit. Church people ought to be the first to acquaint themselves with the facts in the case before passing judgment. Unfortunately this is not always done. I had almost said, this is seldom done. The New York Tribune informs its readers that a volume of insistence is pouring into official Washington from all parts of the country that the Turk must be checked. It goes on to say that when congress reassembles it is confidently predicted that each congressman will hear from the churches in his district.

A week ago some eight hundred residents of Pasadena requested Senator Johnson to introduce a resolution in congress declaring war against Turkey. This, is no doubt, a fair sample of what congressmen may expect to hear from the churches.

At the recent Episcopal Triennial convention in Portland, Oregon, a resolution was passed calling on the churches "to create a public conscience which shall support our President and Secretary of State in any effort, diplomatic, naval or military, that they may make toward the establishment of justice, mercy and peace in these stricken lands."

In an editorial the New York National comments on this resolution as follows: "That is an absolutely indefensible request to Christians to abdicate their moral judgment to public officials. It does worse than that by making for peace—and that with the ghastly failure of one war to end war before our eyes."

When that resolution calls upon the churches to create a "public conscience" no thinking person is thereby deceived. Creating a public conscience is but another name for that malodorous propaganda with which we were cursed during the late war. Has the evil spirit clothed himself once more with the garment of an angel of light?

Now why this appeal to force by people from whom we might have every reason to expect just the reverse? Have they so utterly forgotten the strong rebuke with which Jesus met the suggestions of those upon those who had treated them unkindly? Someone had made the cynical remark that history teaches just one thing, and that is that it never teaches anybody anything. It almost seems so. If we could learn anything from hard and bitter world-experiences we would no longer seek to settle our differences in the same old barbaric way. We would at least for once give the teachings of Jesus, whose followers we profess to be, a reasonable trial.

But why this attitude toward the Turks?

The answer is ready at hand: Because of the unspeakable atrocities of which they have been, and now are, guilty. Yes, the catalogue of their evil deeds is a long one. Cruelty and vindictiveness have marked them all along the line. The horror of it all can scarcely be exaggerated. But have you ever stopped to find out, and that is something worth while, why they are what they are?

Everybody knows that the character of an individual is not formed in a day or a year. Neither is the character of a nation formed in a decade or even a century. A nation's character is the result of age-long experiences.

Let us for a moment call to mind that in the seventeenth century "The Ottoman Empire was holding a territory of two million square miles in full control of the Mediterranean, occupying three quarters of its coast line." Since that time there has been a long series of European aggressions. Defeat has followed upon defeat. And how the vanquished have ever been treated by the victors everybody knows. And the recent so-called peace settlements have brought almost the entire Mohammedan world under European domination. They have been smothering under the foreign yoke for centuries, becoming increasingly galling as the decades rolled by until at last they are filled with a temper bordering on despair. Blame them for that if you will, but it is a good thing to remember when one is tempted to talk hastily about the situation.

One writer says: "Moslem resentment at European dominance has increased, has been reinforced by nationalistic aspirations almost unknown during the last century."

An Egyptian writer, a Mohammedan, remarks: "It is Europe's very tyranny which has wrought our transformation."

Another writes: "The materials for a holy war have long been heaping high."

This is enough to give us at least a glimpse of how the centuries have fashioned the Turk of today.

But someone will say: "What difference does that make? They are what they are, no matter how they came to be. The Turks are so brutal, so cruel, so lost to every sense of humanity, so impervious to every appeal for the nobler things of life that no efforts should be wasted in that direction. Only think of what the Armenian people have suffered greatly at the hands of the Turks, but not solely, nor even mainly, because they are Christians. One Talcott Williams, born and brought up in Asia Minor, has written a book on "Turkey—A World Problem of Today."

There he tells us that to call the slaughter of the Armenians "Christian massacres" is misstating the thing. He says that their Christianity is but a contributory cause, and not the sole or even the main cause. He finds the Turks' hatred of the Armenians far deeper than a mere difference of religion. He calls attention to the fact that there is in Turkey a babel and bedlam of tongues representing different races who have from time immemorial looked upon one another as enemies. The natural result has been that when any one of these factions become stronger than another it sought to destroy the weaker one. This is, say to say, not an unknown pastime in Christian lands.

But the chief reason why the Turks hate the Armenians is given by Mr. Williams in the following words: "Cut off any race from political positions and civil rights, and its members will debase themselves to exchange, banking, to trade, and to transportation as did these down-trodden people. They waxed rich, pursued all four paths I have mentioned, and their wealth and prosperity grew. The Armenians became the natural channels of European trade, and the Turkish middle class became poorer and poorer. The answer is ready at hand: Because of the unspeakable atrocities of which they have been, and now are, guilty. Yes, the catalogue of their evil deeds is a long

one. Cruelty and vindictiveness have marked them all along the line. The horror of it all can scarcely be exaggerated. But have you ever stopped to find out, and that is something worth while, why they are what they are?

FORMER TUSTIN WOMAN IS 100 YEARS OLD

Mrs. Sarah M. Buss Plans to Celebrate Birthday at Bakersfield

Mrs. Sarah M. Buss, formerly of Tustin, will be 100 years young next Monday!

"I may feel old if I live to see another hundred years," she said at Bakersfield, according to word received here today.

Mrs. Buss is the mother of E. D. Buss, for many years a banker at Tustin. The family moved from Santa Ana to the Kern county city twenty or more years ago.

In interviewing her in the northern city, a reporter found that the rich cadence of her remarkably youthful voice seemed almost to contradict the record of Father Time, but not so the eyes, from which shone the wealth of her century's experience and which told at a glance that she has lived to the fullest every year that she has left behind her.

She presented a lovely picture—snowy hair and an unrinkled countenance, a picture beyond the portrayal of artists, one which suggests memories, autumn, the lavender and old lace and all the intangible charms of lovely old age.

In the span of her lifetime Mrs. Buss has lived and worked through most of the greatest crises in the history of this country. As a little girl, she listened to her grandfather, Matthew Buell jr., tell of his experiences as a drummer boy in the battle of Antietam Hill. Through both the Civil War and the World War she worked tirelessly and at the time of opening the registration for 1922 County Clerk Frank E. Smith, knowing her great age and her grand old record, went to her home and secured her as the first registrant upon the roll.

Wed In 1847
In 1847 Mrs. Buss, then Sarah M. Buss, was married to Ezra Buss of Wilton, N. H., with whom she lived 31 years until his death in 1886. Since that date she has resided with her son, Edwin D. Buss, well-known banker, who has spent the twenty years in Bakersfield. Her constant companion has been her daughter, Miss Mary W. Buss.

Mrs. Buss attributes her longevity and happy old age to a life of interested work. She was a farmer's daughter and enjoyed the pioneer life of a New England farm girl, meeting with zest and enthusiasm the hardships of frontier life. She has, since her residence in Bakersfield, been an earnest worker in the First Congregational church and a prominent member of the Ladies' Aid society and other similar organizations.

Always Optimistic
As for eating good and exercise Mrs. Buss has never given much thought to either. The exercise of homely duties she has found sufficient and she has found far too much of importance in life to give much consideration to the matter of calories and properly balanced rations. She has always maintained an optimism in meeting all occasions which no doubt is a great factor in making her the inspirational character that she is. Mrs. Buss retains a delicious sense of humor. She has for many years taken active interest in all social, civic and political issues. Her reading has been extensive and along broad lines. This she has continued until just recently when failing sight reduced her activity in this line. She is the picture of quiet content as she does or works or chats in her bright room and on November 6 cheerfully will embark on a new year and a new century, thankful for the comforts of life she still enjoys and despite the weakness of extreme age and failing hearing and vision.

MAJOR SEEKS BLUE MAN-EATING TIGER
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 3.—Major W. C. Gotshall, retired army officer and well known sportsman, sailed from Seattle recently for China, where he will spend a year hunting the man-eating blue tiger, said to be the rarest and most dangerous big game known.

This rare species inhabits the remote districts of Manchuria and Northern China, and, according to Major Gotshall, it has never yet submitted to captivity, and is nearly twice the size of the Bengal tiger.

Widow of Triangle Case Man Killed on Hunt Files Estate Petition

Property valued at less than $1000 was left by Frank Smedley, Anaheim contractor, who was drowned under mysterious circumstances in Lake Hodges near San Diego, October 22, according to petition for letters of administration which the widow, Irene Smedley, had on file today in superior court here.

The estate consisted of personal property, and included accounts worth $400, according to the petition. Besides the widow, Smedley is survived by his father, whose whereabouts, the widow states, is unknown to her.

Smedley met his death while hunting ducks in company with Miss Adele Dalton, an Irvine school teacher.

The woman, who was waiting in Smedley's car while he took a boat out on the lake, heard a shot, and then no more. After waiting for some time, she procured assistance and found the empty boat floating on the lake. The body was recovered some time later.

It was believed that Smedley, reaching for a duck, which he had shot, leaned over too far and fell into the water.

STAGE SET HERE FOR SOUTHLAND'S MODERN LANGUAGE FOLK MEET

he stage was set here today for the assembling tomorrow of 200 language teachers from all sections of Southern California who will have a prominent part in the deliberations of the Modern Language association meeting at Santa Ana high school.

French and Spanish will feature the morning session, scheduled to open at 10:30 o'clock. Miss Ruth Frothingham, of the high school faculty, is on the program for a solo.

With luncheon set for 12:30, it was expected that the afternoon session would get under way at 1:30 p. m.

Luncheon speakers will include Principal D. K. Hammond; J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools; H. G. Nelson, principal of the junior high school, Prof. H. R. Brush, of the University of California, and others.

Dr. M. P. Rodriguez, Honduras consul with headquarters in Los Angeles, Prof. Pijian, Madrid, Spain, and other prominent speakers were scheduled to address the gathering.

WILL TELL AIM OF STUDENTS' HONOR CLASS

Secrets concerning the tremendous moral force inherent in the fact that they are striving toward rigid standards of perfection will be explained to the fifty members of the Honor society, composed of the star students of the high school here, when they meet Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Anderson, 501 Wellington avenue. It was announced today.

W. J. Menton, vice-principal of the school, will deliver an address on "The Dynamics of an Ideal," in which will be embodied illuminating facts as to the spiritual advantages that accrue to the students through continual efforts to reach the standing in scholarship and general school activities which is required of members of the society.

Whereas the meeting will be largely of a social nature, giving the Honor society folk an opportunity to become better acquainted with each other, it will also serve to institute a series of meetings which will be addressed by well-known speakers on subjects both interesting and informative, it was stated.

The teachers on the Honor society, Miss Mabel Witting, Miss Jennie Lasby and Miss Isabel Anderson, will attend, as will also D. K. Hammond, principal of the high school and dean of junior college; Mrs. Hammond, and J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, and Mrs. Cranston.

Vice-principal Clayton is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, an earnest student and an interesting speaker.

Miss Enid Twist, president of the society, who is in charge of the arrangements, has appointed Jero Bauer as transportation committee, and Miss Effie Jessup as supper chairman.

PASTORS READY FOR BIG DRY LAW DRIVE

Ministers of Orange county and laymen interested in the passage of the Wright enforcement act today were completing preparations for a last-hour rally and demonstration throughout the county tomorrow afternoon and in Santa Ana in the evening.

At the same time, it was announced that there would be a meeting of all precinct workers for the Wright act at the First Methodist church here next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A. H. Theal, chairman of the county committee, urged all precinct workers to be present, in order that final plans for work on election day may be made.

Four groups of ministers will begin tomorrow afternoon a street speaking tour of all the principal communities of the county. The activities of the day will be concluded with a county-wide mass meeting at Birch park at 7 o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. James A. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist church, Los Angeles, as the principal speaker.

In Groups of Threes.
The ministers will travel in groups of threes. There are four teams.

The places, hours and speakers are as follows:

Buena Park, 1:45, the Rev. E. N. Bollen; Fullerton, 2:15 p. m., the Rev. John Oliver; Anaheim, 2:30 p. m., the Rev. G. A. Francis; Brea, 2 p. m., the Rev. Harry Hill; Placentia, 3 p. m., the Rev. J. L. Parks; Yorba Linda, 3:45 p. m., the Rev. Otto S. Russell; Balboa, 2 p. m., the Rev. W. E. Spicer; El Modena, 3 p. m., the Rev. L. M. Pearson; Orange, 4 p. m., the Rev. W. A. Betts; Garden Grove, 1:30 p. m., the Rev. J. G. Kennedy; Westminster, 2:30 p. m., the Rev. S. W. Gare; Huntington Beach, 3:30 p. m., the Rev. Arthur Luther.

The teams are expected to have with them buses or other instruments with which their arrival in the various communities may be announced.

Mitchell to Speak.
At the evening mass meeting at Birch Park, Mayor John G. Mitchell will introduce the speaker.

The Rev. Dr. Francis is well known as one of the most forceful and effective speakers in Southern California. He will discuss the Wright law from all points of view. He will especially touch upon the economic side of the question and show that if California passes this law, the counties will collect and receive the fines in the enforcement of the law which now goes to the federal government. He will explain that there will be no added expenses, but the same peace officers who are now on duty will make the arrests and the present courts will administer the law. The Rev. Dr. Francis will speak particularly upon this point, it was stated.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR RECEPTION TO GREET METHODIST MINISTER

Plans today were completed for the reception to be given tonight at the First Methodist church in honor of the Rev. Will A. Betts, who succeeded the Rev. John Oliver here.

Suitable musical features have been arranged, according to Mrs. C. W. Burns, secretary of the Ladies' Aid, under whose auspices the reception will be held. Refreshments will be served. The reception is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

"This will be an excellent opportunity for the people to get acquainted with the new pastor," said Mrs. Burns, "and it is hoped that there will be a full attendance. All those interested in the church are urged to attend."

Priest at Mission Assisting In Sale Of History Volume

Historic Records Probed for Facts Contained In Priest's New Book

AUTHOR WELL KNOWN

Fascinating Detail Found In Accurately Collated Work Now On Sale

At last, the history of San Juan Capistrano mission has been written, and by it, it is proven that the present site of the mission was the original site.

The tradition that the mission was founded at Mission Viejo, in San Juan canyon, several miles east of San Juan Capistrano, vanishes.

Cherished throughout these years, the story that the mission bells, buried when the first attempt to found the mission was disturbed by the attack of Indians on San Diego mission, were never found, is declared to be the basis in historic records. In fact, the diary of the Fray Francisco Palou, is cited to prove that the bells were dug up and were used in the founding of the mission in 1776.

These are but two traditions either proven or disproven in this, the first history of San Juan Capistrano.

Former Stories Hazy.
True, sketches have been written, literary bits have appeared, and a few outstanding events and dates have been fixed, but, at best, the history of the ancient mission has been dealt with in dim and hazy fashion.

Now comes a book that those keenly interested in the mission have always hoped for but had never believed would be written, because but few have known that the material for a real history of the mission was available.

But it is written, and published, and is today on sale at the mission at San Juan Capistrano and at the Santa Ana Book Store. Its title is "San Juan Capistrano, the Jewel of the Missions," and the author is the Rev. Fray Zephrynn Engelhardt, a Franciscan priest, now a resident of Santa Barbara mission.

Author's Name Guarantee.
The name of the author alone is guarantee among historians and students of California history of careful work, interesting detail and accurate and extensive quotation of original sources. For three or four decades, Father Engelhardt has been engaged in the writing of history, and as a Catholic priest he has been privileged to search for and use records of the church in Mexico, Arizona, California and elsewhere that his keen mind led him.

Among his books are "Franciscans in California," "Missions and Missionaries," "Holy Man of Santa Clara," "San Diego Mission, the Mother of Missions," and "San Luis Rey Mission, the King of the Missions."

In selecting a title for his book on San Juan Capistrano, Father Engelhardt seems to have been particularly apt and fortunate, for San Juan Capistrano indeed was "The Jewel of the Missions."

Fascinating in Detail.
The vast sources of history at the command of Father Engelhardt are used in fascinating detail in the new book. It would be impossible here to give anything like a list of sources used. Suffice it to say that included are the records of the mission, the diaries of padres, the official reports that padres and military authorities

400 Expected.
"We have asked the management to be prepared to help us entertain fully 400 guests."

Wahlberg said interest is keen in the gathering and indications were that delegates will be in attendance from all sections of Southern California.

The lobby exhibit will be on display from 10 a. m. until noon. Addresses by prominent speakers are scheduled for the afternoon.

F. O. Popenoe, president of the California Avocado association, will preside.

SAYS SHE NEVER EXPECTS TO BE WITHOUT IT

"It is almost unbelievable, but Tanlac has built me up twenty-six pounds in less than a month's time," said Mrs. Ada L. Garrison, 1242 West Manchester Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

"But this was only a small part of the good I received. For eighteen years I suffered from my back and I almost became a nervous wreck from loss of sleep due to the pain that plagued me day and night. I used to take a hot water bottle to bed with me every night to get relief enough to drop off to sleep."

"Since taking Tanlac, I eat, sleep and feel better than I have in years and I haven't had a touch of backache for weeks. I never expect to be without Tanlac and intend to take a dose occasionally just to keep in the splendid health I have now."

Tanlac is sold by all good drug-gists.—Adv.

COMMUNITY SING IS CIVIC CLUB'S PLAN

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 3.—With the purchase of a piano and establishment of next Monday night as the first rehearsal date, plans were well advanced here today for the inauguration of a community sing club by the Civic League of Newport Beach.

Mrs. W. W. Brown will have charge of the music section of the league. Mrs. R. C. Woerz will be accompanist on the piano; Mrs. Joseph A. Beck will be violinist, and her husband will wield the baton.

Among those who have joined the sing club thus far are Mrs. Lew Wallace, Mrs. Katherine Paige, Mrs. W. W. Brown, Mrs. Marguerite Burlingame, Mrs. Glen Wallace, Mrs. Walter Eastlack, Miss Rita Thompson and Mrs. A. Marlow.

Each member of the league, through the sale of handwork done by her, is to assist in paying for the piano.

The last meeting of the league was held at the home of Mrs. Burlingame, 406 Surf avenue. The women sewed for the bazaar, which is to be held by the Women's exchange December 5, 6 and 7.

NEWPORT SCOUTS TO BE IN PROCESSION

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 3.—The Newport Beach troop of Boy Scouts, numbering twenty-two, are to parade at Fullerton on Armistice day. Weston Jay will bear the American flag, and Harvey Durkee will carry the troop flag.

Preparing themselves for marching, the boys have been drilling three nights a week, under the direction of their scoutmaster, J. A. Twist, and his assistant, B. H. Lobnow.

Three first-class badges and sixteen merit badges were awarded the Newport Beach troop at the Council of Honor in Santa Ana. The winners of the first-class badges were Clifton Wilson, Orlando Briscoe and Delaney Wilson.

EBELL CLUB MEETS AT NEWPORT TODAY

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 3.—Members of the Ebell club of Newport Beach are to meet today at their clubrooms for a business meeting.

Tonight the members will meet at the home of Mrs. W. W. Crozier, Buena Vista avenue, past president of the Ebell club, and witness a program arranged by Mrs. Crozier, in which Miss Jennie Lasby, of the Santa Ana Junior college, will discuss the Indian. There will be a short musical program.

DE MOLAYANS GET CHARTER TOMORROW

Dr. Marshall Stewart, of Los Angeles, and other prominent Masons of the Southland, will participate in the installation of Santa Ana Chapter De Molay for boys, at the Masonic temple here, tomorrow night. It was announced today.

Institution of the chapter and initiation of candidates, scheduled for 7:30 p. m., will be in charge of the Los Angeles and Long Beach advisory councils, with fifty-five Santa Ana youths slated to become charter members.

Preceding installation of the chapter, dinner for the boys and the visiting Masons will be served in the temple at 6:15 p. m. Brief addresses by prominent Masons will be in order at the dinner. The boys will meet next week to elect officers.

All Master Masons are invited to attend the ceremonies.

CHINA FAIR DRAWS SOUTHERN THROUGHS

CHINO, Nov. 3.—China is the drawing card for San Bernardino County. Everybody is coming to Chino to see the Second Annual Chino Community Fair which last year proved such a success.

The town is ready to entertain with royal fitness her guests during the annual fiesta. Her hospitality was proved at the first frolic held there last year and plans for even greater good times are under way by those in charge now.

This month—on Nov. 1, 2, 3 and 4—Chino is out to eclipse all previous efforts and is going to show all Southern California a wonderful attraction.

'HURRICANE II' PUT TO TEST BEFORE BIG RACE IN NORTH SOON

BALBOA, Nov. 3.—W. W. Paden, owner of Hurricane II, and "Wild Bill" Cubbon have tried Hurricane II to see how she acts since being repaired from damages received in the Cecil B. De Mille race, which the Hurricane II won.

The Hurricane II is to enter the race for the Nordling trophy Sunday, November 15, in Los Angeles harbor, and excitement runs high among the Balboas. "Wild Bill" and his mechanic, Louis Dickson, have no thought of anything else but the winning of that race, they say.

POLICE EXAMINATIONS

LONG BEACH, Nov. 3.—Twenty-four vacancies exist in the Long Beach police department, it was announced by Chief of Police Ben W. McLendon. Examinations, scheduled to begin November 18, will provide an eligible list from which all the vacancies are to be filled, it is hoped.

U. S.-TURKEY WAR SERMON SUBJECT

more hostile and fanatic, culminating in the desire of the Turks to entirely wipe out the Armenians. . . . The history of the world shows that racial bitterness turns to massacre when a nation's victories fall away and prosperity disappears."

And now add to all this another factor so conveniently overlooked or forgotten by most people. You will agree with me that any one who brings a serious accusation against another should appear with clean hands. Are Christian hands clean? Are they not guilty of similar offenses?

I have no desire to weary you with a list of these. Let me name only one witness concerning the latest outrages perpetrated by these so-called Christians.

This witness is none other than Frank Bouillon, French envoy, who has just returned to Paris from the Near East. He, in a statement to the United Press, said that the Greeks, and not the Turks, deliberately burned Smyrna, and also burned some one hundred thousand houses in the interior of Asia Minor. And he added: "The Greeks were worse than the Germans in the late war."

Such a testimony coming from a Frenchman ought to penetrate the dullest skull.

You remember what General Tasker H. Bliss said some time ago concerning the responsibility of the churches as to war. "The responsibility is entirely upon the professing Christians of the United States. If another war like the last should come, they will be responsible for every drop of blood that will be shed."

And yet, incredible as it may seem, leaders in the churches are again among the first to bow the knee to the god of war.

In closing let me quote a few lines from Senator Borah's speech before the Press club at Chicago, September 30: "Another great war cloud hangs over Europe. The whole world looks on in dread and terror lest another butchery of the human family, another great carnage, is to be initiated. If such happens it would seem almost a miracle should we escape a complete breakdown of the whole vast structure of modern civilization, a final disintegration of the moral forces of society. Literally language cannot begin to portray the destructive and deadly effect of another great war. Can anything be said or done to stay or discourage it? I think something can be done. I think the Christian world can raise its voice in behalf of justice to those people against whom we are now asked to prepare for war."

"During the war France solemnly, publicly, repeatedly promised liberty and independence to Syria. England promised a free program for the people of Egypt and Mesopotamia. When the war closed all this territory and all these people were divided up, parcelled out, and the white race, the Christian race, began to shoot down and kill and murder the people of Syria and Mesopotamia and Egypt and India and to make ready to exploit their oil fields and their natural wealth. If the story of these people since the betrayal of these people since the war could be laid bare it would make a story of cruelty and treachery nowhere surpassed in the history of wars. The result was, of course, that all Islam was aroused to resentment and which was easily added, on account of Constantinople, religious fanaticism which when once aroused who can tell the consequences!"

"So, I say instead of the white people, the Christian people, preparing to make war, let them first prepare to do justice to these people. That will stop them quicker than anything else. Instead of arousing the fear and passion of a Christian world that will send their sons to rot in that eternal slaughter house let them raise a united voice in favor of righting the wrong which has been practiced upon the colored races. It is the accursed fruit of unconscionable imperialism, of indefensible exploitation, of jealousy among the great powers which we are now about to gather in the shape of another world war."

WEALTHY 'DUDE' WINS MONTANA CHEERS BY RIDING WILD 'HOSS'

BROADUS, Mont., Nov. 3.—William Rosenthal of Chicago, a son of Julius Rosenthal, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., is "game to the core," in the belief of thousands of Montana citizens who attended the annual round-up here last week and witnessed Rosenthal's attempt to ride a real bucking Montana cayuse.

Spectators at the opening program of the Broadus round-up are convinced of the truth of the popular theory that the scions of eastern wealth are all "riding for a fall," following Rosenthal's practical demonstration outside the corral of the fair grounds here.

But accomplishing Rosenthal's "fall" was no easy matter. It took a husky range-bred and thorough "ornery" Montana cayuse to do it, and Broadus is "telling the world" that Rosenthal is a dead game sort.

PIEDMONT, W. Va., Nov. 3.—A regular honey mine has just been discovered by G. S. Kitzmiller, a farmer living near Hartmannville. In cutting down a sugar maple tree on his place he found a large hollow place in the trunk in which bees had made a hive and from which he took 107 pounds of honey of the finest grade. One piece of solid comb measured seven feet in length.

The public library will be closed all day Tuesday on account of the election.

The regular meeting of the order of Eastern Star will be held in I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday evening. An initiation and the annual election of officers for the coming year will be held.

RUSSIAN COUNTESS SEWING GOWNS FOR TOURISTS IN ITALY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Countess Marguerite de Cassini, niece of a Russian ambassador 20 years ago and belle in Washington society and diplomatic circles, is now a refugee and dressmaker in Florence, Italy.

The countess, the Washington woman said, sews for tourists and visitors at a hotel and when she cannot get this class of work, goes out by the day to sew in the homes of middle class families.

The gown which was brought here has Russian embroidery and many distinctive features. In addition to sewing the countess has a half interest in a little shop in Florence, where she serves with the same poise and charm that made her popular in Washington society in the heyday of her youth, 20 years ago.

BRYANS TO SAIL HOME

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—William Jennings Bryan and Mrs. Bryan were to sail from San Pedro today aboard the Pacific Mail steamer Ecuador returning to their home in Miami, Fla. They will stop en route at Central American ports and for a time in Havana.

JUDGE THOMAS ON LEGION'S PROGRAM

Rev. J. A. Geissinger. At the Presbyterian church the Rev. Thomas Walker will conduct the services. A musical program is being provided for both the morning and evening services. At Olinda the Rev. Wilfred Kent of the Methodist church will hold services in the morning and at Garden Grove the Rev. S. W. Gage will officiate at the evening services.

At Yorba Linda

At Yorba Linda union services will be held at the Friends church, with the Rev. Joseph Fox of the Friends church presiding. In order to assure full attendance at all of the services special meetings of the American Legion and Auxiliaries have made arrangements to participate.

TRADITIONS OF MISSION ARE SHATTERED

made to headquarters in Mexico and California.

The story of the mission is told beginning with preparations for its founding, down to today.

And one can surmise that the Rev. St. John O'Sullivan, priest in charge of the mission since 1910, has had a good deal to do with preparation of materials for the history.

It was through his co-operation that the history was made possible, for he agreed to accept the responsibility of selling 1,000 of the 2,000 copies of the first edition.

Restoration Work Aid.

Whatever profit may be derived from the sale of Father O'Sullivan's share of the edition is to go to the fund to be used in carrying forward the restoration of the mission.

The route of the Portola expedition, the story of the founding, the opening of mission books by Fray Junipero Serra, the development of the mission and its numerous ranchos, the building and destruction of the great stone church, the life of the mission, the effect of secularization of the missions, the division of the lands at San Juan Capistrano, biographical sketches of the Franciscans who served the mission—thus one might go on and give a long list of subjects dealt with in this book with its 260 pages of deeply interesting history.

Then, too, a list of the seventy illustrations used in the book would be illuminating, for included are facsimiles of pages of the records opened by Junipero Serra, pictures of the mission taken in 1876 and one made in 1880, showing a stage and two horsemen in the foreground.

Altogether, it is a fascinating book, and to anyone interested in Orange county history it is priceless.

CLUB ARRANGES CITIZENS BILL DISCUSSION

Probably the last opportunity to hear a public discussion of proposed measures will be at the meeting at the First Congregational church at 7:30 o'clock tonight, under the auspices of the Ebell club.

Eight measures will be discussed, with debates on at least two of them.

The legislative and educational committees of the club developed the program in order to present interested citizens the "high lights" on Nos. 10, 11, 12, 13, 22, 24 and 27. Men and women familiar with the measures have been secured as speakers.

Mayor S. C. Evans, of Riverside, and Horace C. Head, attorney of Santa Ana, will be among the speakers. Mrs. Charles McKelvey, of Los Angeles, formerly a resident of Santa Ana, is another.

"I desire to urge men and women of Santa Ana and vicinity to attend the meeting tonight," said Mrs. W. L. Grubb, chairman of the legislative committee. "We have gone to considerable trouble to secure the speakers, and we trust that the attendance will justify our efforts."

SEES VICTORY FOR REPUBLICAN TICKET

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—In a statement issued through Albert E. Boynton, chairman of the Republican state organization in California, Dr. F. L. Atkinson of Sacramento, one of the most prominent physicians in Northern California, who has just completed a campaign swing through the central section of the state extending from Sacramento to Los Angeles, predicts Senator Johnson and Friend Richardson will carry Tuesday's election by overwhelming majorities.

Boynton quotes Dr. Atkinson as follows:

"Sacramento city and county and every county north of there in the Sacramento valley will give Friend W. Richardson and the Republican ticket a splendid majority. I have been closely in touch with the situation in the north and in spite of the fact that Sacramento is claimed by Woolwine supporters to be one of Woolwine's strongest points, I will be amazed if he comes even close to Richardson's vote.

"Woolwine's stand on the wet and dry question has gained him some votes with the professional wets; none at all with cane thinkers who recognize it as a vote-snaring move, and his stand has lost him a great many votes with all classes of electors.

"On my trip down south from Sacramento I visited such cities as Stockton, Modesto, Madera, Merced, Fresno, Visalia, Lindsay, Porterville, Bakersfield and Ventura and discussed the forthcoming election with professional and business men. They tell me that Richardson will carry every one of these counties and that Hiram Johnson will receive the handsomest majorities ever given him by the electorate of California.

"In Bakersfield, particularly, the situation seemed to favor Richardson greatly. Woolwine, staging a meeting in Bakersfield, made a strenuous effort to carry the town by circus methods, but succeeded only in a small measure.

"Summarizing the situation in California as I have found it, I venture the prediction that Senator Johnson and Friend Richardson will carry the state by overwhelming majorities."

EX-KAISER NERVOUS AS MARRIAGE NEARS

BY FERDINAND JAHN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1922, by United Press)
DOORN, Holland, Nov. 3.—An intricate system of burglar alarms, barbed wire fences, heavy chains and protective moats has been installed about the castle where, on Sunday former Kaiser Wilhelm will take as his bride the Princess Hermine.

Imperious as ever, Wilhelm today had succeeded in angering the hospitable Dutch by the extraordinary orders which he issued freely in connection with his wedding preparations.

An airplane, flying low over the castle, was reported to have terrified Wilhelm, who is said to be growing increasingly nervous as the hour for the ceremony draws near. Fearing the plan pretended some journalistic enterprise, the former monarch ordered Count Moltke to summon all the staff of the castle at which he is a guest and threaten instant dismissal for any one who permitted the slightest leak of information concerning the wedding.

Wilhelm then went "one too far," however, by instructing the Count to order the burgomaster of Doorn to preserve the utmost secrecy. In official Dutch circles this caused much indignation. It was considered usurpation of the authority that rests only in Holland's queen. The Princess Hermine is at Amerongen, former refuge of the ex-Kaiser. She will remain there until tomorrow when she will travel by automobile to Doorn to prepare for the ceremony. Tonight Count Bentenock entertains lavishly in her honor.

The former crown prince is with his father and is helping him bear the brunt of his fears.

NUMEROUS MEXICANS EXPECTED TO ENTER CLASSES IN ENGLISH

Mexicans of this vicinity interested in studying the English language today were expected to be present in large numbers at the mass meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the assembly hall of the junior high school.

Miss Helen Lamson, Mexican home teacher, was completing preparations for the meeting. She is taking an active interest in the plans to develop large classes, and expressed the belief that many would avail themselves of the opportunity better to acquaint themselves with the English language.

It is proposed to hold a series of night classes for the benefit of Mexicans who are employed during the day. An entertainment program has been arranged which some of the Mexican leaders of the city will participate. Music and addresses will feature the program.

CHIROPRACTIC LAW ADVOCATED

"One thousand chiropractors are now practicing in California without a license," said Dr. Frank Pyott, field secretary of the State Chiropractic association in an interview yesterday.

"To remedy this condition," according to Dr. Pyott, "the chiropractors of the state are campaigning for bill number 16, which will be voted upon Tuesday."

"This bill," continued Dr. Pyott, "will exact high educational standards of the chiropractors and will provide stringent tests in the science and practice of chiropractic in the state."

"The passage of this bill will end a long, expensive controversy between the medical board and the chiropractors," concluded Dr. Pyott, "and will safeguard the public against incompetent persons who attempt to practice chiropractic."

FIRST MENS' CLUB MEET SUCCESSFUL

Opening its winter season last evening with three interesting addresses, the Men's club of Santa Ana today began looking forward to its next meeting the first Thursday in December, at which time the Tustin members of the club will provide the program.

The speakers last evening were R. B. Miller, county probation officer, who discussed the cause of delinquency and the work of his office; R. R. Roberts, of Los Angeles, who was present as the guest of Guy J. Gilbert, and Attorney J. L. Allen, who came here a few months ago from Brawley.

Roberts presented a number of charts by which he showed the average earning capacity of men between 25 to 65 years old, and the average trend of financial standing through the same period. He urged that only investments that are sound be made.

C. D. Brown, president of the club, presided, with S. J. Cornell in charge of the program. The club meets at the Church of the Messiah. Last evening the guild hall was beautifully decorated with dahlias from the F. B. Browning ranch.

PRAISES RECORD OF STATE CONTROLLER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Praising the record of State Controller Ray L. Riley, former supervisor of San Bernardino county, Chairman Albert E. Boynton of the Republican state committee, today issued an appeal to the voters of California to again place Riley in the controller's office.

Boynton's statement follows: "The office of state controller is an important one. Originally, the controller acted simply as the chief audit officer of the state, but from time to time his duties have been increased and today his functions are many. The controller assesses and collects inheritance taxes, which constitute the second largest source of state revenue; he must submit to the Governor biennially an estimate of the cost of government; he must collect corporation franchise taxes and funds due the state under the delinquent tax redemption statute, and he is an ex-officio member of the board of control and state board of equalization. These are a few of the additional duties imposed upon the controller."

"The functions of the office demand man of rare judgment and ability. Ray L. Riley possesses those qualities. Appointed by Governor Stephens in July, 1921, to succeed Colonel John S. Chambers, Riley has conducted the office of controller with great credit to himself and to the state. It is a tribute to Riley that his candidacy is endorsed by his predecessor, Colonel Chambers. Riley served with distinction as a member of the board of supervisors of San Bernardino and as head of the state real estate commission. Devoting himself to the study of taxation problems, Controller Riley today is recognized as one of the leading tax experts in the country."

"The state of California needs such men as Ray Riley in public office. The Republican state committee urges upon the voters of California the necessity of retaining his services."

BRIGHT FUTURE IS FORECAST FOR CITY

"If the success of a city is measured by its building developments Santa Ana is certainly a bright spot." This statement was made today by R. A. Emison, manager of the Santa Ana Lumber company, 1730 West Fourth street. In surveying this company's history, Emison went on to say:

"The Santa Ana Lumber company was formed by E. G. Summers and L. T. Clem, both from Illinois, in May, 1921. In the short time since we began business our company has grown until we are now employing forty men.

"Shortly after the company was formed S. A. Clem was appointed sales manager and holds this position at the present time. The mill, which has developed into a real woodworking factory, is under the supervision of R. R. Lutes.

"We handle all manner of building materials; lumber, plaster, cement, all kinds of roofing, wall board, paints and builders' hardware. We specialize on cabinet work and all built-in features and make nearly all of our sashes and doors to order.

"The recent growth of our company is evidenced by the addition of a new Ford truck and a Packard two and a half ton truck during the last few days.

"Soon after opening here we procured the National Builders' bureau system of photographs and plans of modern homes and other buildings. This affords an easy method of home selection and is one of the many means we take in co-operation with the prospective home builder."

STATE REPUBLICANS EXCEED DEMOCRATS

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3.—Registered Republicans outnumber registered Democrats in California, by more than three to one, according to figures released in Sacramento by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan showing that registration for the general election November 7 is the greatest in the history of the State.

Total registration for the State is 1,532,334, exceeding the registration for the August primary by 80,091.

Republican registration for the State is 968,429, and the Democratic registration is 319,107.

Emphasizing the overwhelming Republican majority is the fact that not one of the State's fifty-eight counties shows a Democratic preponderance.

Those who decline to state party affiliations number 195,907, but these may vote for partisan nominees in the general election. The primary law prohibits non-partisan registrants from voting for party candidates in the primaries.

Los Angeles county has the greatest county registration, in the State with a total of 417,287 being more than double the registration in San Francisco County. In this county there are 259,609 registered Republicans and 79,041 Democrats. San Francisco's total registration is 201,563, of which 86,294 are Democrats.

HAY STACKS YIELD MUCH 'BOOTLEG' IN RAID OF OFFICERS

MODESTO, Nov. 3.—Complaints from people in the Hughson district, nine miles from here, today caused raids by officers on three ranches there.

Armed with long steel probes deputy sheriffs investigated hay stacks and more than 3,000 gallons of wine and whiskey valued at $35,000—bootleg quotations—was seized.

Further probing disclosed two 20 barrel stills operating at full blast.

Four ranchers were arrested. Hughson parents complained that drunkenness between young boys and girls had become alarmingly prevalent recently. The ranchers are prominent in that section and the raid has caused a sensation.

SEATTLE CHURCH IS GREAT PRESBYTERY

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The First Presbyterian church of Seattle, Wash., having a membership of 7,066, is the largest church of its denomination in the country, according to the annual report of the church for the year ending Easter, now being prepared.

The Central church of Brooklyn, with almost 4,000 members, ranks second, while the number of churches with 1,000 or more members has increased from 131 in 1920 to 167. These are less than two per cent of the total number of 9,560 churches in the denomination but they have 14 per cent of the total membership of 1,757,000, the report states.

The Synod of New York is largest with Pennsylvania and Ohio ranking in the order named.

TUBE FOUND HERE ON ENGINE IS BOMB

All doubt as to the character of ingredients contained in a section of an automobile tube found in the tender of a Santa Fe locomotive in the local yards Tuesday night was cleared today when a report by explosive experts employed by the Santa Fe railway company disclosed that forty per cent of the ingredients was dynamite. F. T. Smith, local agent, received the report.

Convinced that the bomb was placed in the tender by persons intent on doing damage to railway property, detectives of the company immediately began a searching investigation.

It was said that the locomotive on which the death dealing implement was found was repaired in the San Bernardino yards a few days before the bomb was found.

ANAHEIM DISTRICT IS AGAIN SUED FOR COIN HELD DUE ON SCHOOL

Another suit against the Anaheim union high school district and its trustees, was begun in superior court here today when the Bennett-Montgomery Hardware company sued for $1,531.95 and $500 costs.

The school district, and S. D. Winters, Charles N. Mann, H. M. Adams, T. R. Carner, B. A. Sparks, and A. L. Gribbling were named defendants in the suit. The complaint alleges that the plaintiffs furnished materials used in constructing an addition to the Anaheim high school, and that payment has not been made.

A second suit, similarly worded, was entered against A. L. Gribbling, contractor, by the hardware company.

This is one of a series of suits which have been entered following the completion of the building at Anaheim. The trustees, it was understood, were dissatisfied, and refused to pay for the work.

REPUBLICANS SPEND MUCH IN CAMPAIGNS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Senatorial and congressional campaigns have cost the Republicans more than $665,900 since July 1, and some $82,118 is still in the treasury.

The list of large contributors, headed by John D. Rockefeller, who gave $15,000, is made up for the most part of leading American business men. While the total amount of contributions of $100 or more is $360,193, the amount of contributions of less than $100, totaling $29,469, is representative of gifts from citizens of nearly every state in the union.

Among the contributors in President Harding's cabinet, Secretary Hoover heads the list with a contribution of $5,000. The other two cabinet contributors are Postmaster General Work, who gave $1,000 and Secretary of Labor Davis, $200.

Among the leading business men and financiers who made substantial contributions are: John D. Rockefeller Jr., who gave $10,000; Julius Fleischman, New York manufacturer, $5,000, and Paul M. Warburg, financier, $2,500.

SHRINE CLUB DANCE ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Members of the Orange County Shrine club today were recalling with keen pleasure the first of their series of social activities, held at Balboa last night, when the organization met at the pavilion for an informal dancing party.

This function, according to D. Eymann Huff, drew a large attendance, members of the club from all sections of the county motoring to the beach city for the affair.

Plans for the charity ball will be discussed at a meeting within the next few days, it was announced. R. L. Bisby, who directed the affair last year, will be in charge of the arrangements, Huff said.

THEFT OF CARPENTER TOOLS BEING PROBED

Santa Ana police, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel, county finger print expert, were today investigating the theft of carpenters' tools from the chests of O. W. Dahne, 520 Wisteria Place, last night.

According to a report by Dahne to police today, the stolen tools exceed $100 in value.

None of the cases was taken, but many of the valuable implements were said to be missing.

VANDAL DESECRATES VALUABLE PAINTING

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A $5000 painting of Jeanne d'Arc by Edward Rigney, an American painter, which reposes as an altarpiece in the little chapel of the Jeanne d'Arc home for French girls, has been desecrated, it was learned when the artist began the work of restoring it.

The damage, Rigney said, was an act of "innocent vandalism," probably perpetrated by a house painter who sought with unskilled hand but sincere purpose to repaint it to his liking.

The face of the peasant girl had been changed to appear worldly and the landscape altered to indicate an approaching storm, while old flowers were painted in the foreground, and sheep, originally painted shorn, were represented with coats of wool, the artist said.

PRESBYTERIANS STUDY CALL FOR NEW PASTOR

Whether the Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Champaign, Ill., will be called to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church here probably will be decided at a congregational meeting of the church Sunday, it was said here today.

WIFE SUES HUSBAND IN DESERTION PLEA

Alleging desertion after five months of married life, Mary E. Lockart today began suit for divorce against James Lockart.

The couple were married in Chicago in May, the suit alleges.

FORGER'S PLEA LOST; GETS PRISON TERM

In a hearing on this plea last week, Deputy District Attorney Moxley hand scathingly arraigned the man after he had secured his admission that he had written other worthless checks.

Stern criticism was offered by the prosecution when it was testified that Kinnamon had left his wife in a Pasadena hospital, while he lived with a widow in Anaheim.

MULE GOES ON SPREE

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—"Mystery," the moonshine drinking mule of Fred Benson, got his owner in jail yesterday. Mystery got ugly after several "drinks" of moonshine mash and chased several pedestrians down the street. Mystery and Benson will explain to the judge today.

Home Seeker — Save Money!

You will never succeed in buying a home, until you have learned to save money. Set aside a little each month and you will soon have accumulated enough to enable you to make a "first payment" on a home. Our plan of Systematic Saving is a very easy method of putting aside part of your wages, and besides encouraging thrift, it pays you 7% for your efforts. Do not wait until you can save a large amount each month—start with a little and see how quickly it will grow.

When we get old and not yet gray,
Some people think we are right in the way.
Some of the young (so it is said)
Think the old should be dead.
The young should think, and not try to cheat,
That life to the old is just as sweet.
They will find out without being told
That life is sweet even to the old.
So when the years have come and passed away,
You will be old if not gray.
Now in conclusion let me say
Try to live right every day,
And to the young if you have any soul,
You will be kind to the old.
There is a Bread so we are told,
If you will eat you will never grow old.
Now dear reader never fear, to eat Hill's Bread while you stay here.

MAN WHO SCHOoled EDISON IN WAY OF TELEGRAPHY QUITS

VISALIA, Nov. 3.—Request that he be relieved from duty as manager of the Visalia office of a commercial telegraph company, if granted, will sound thirty for the oldest operator in point of service in the United States. For J. C. Ward the man who taught Thomas A. Edison to telegraph has been at the key practically continuously for sixty years—thirty-five years in his present position and an operator in Visalia since 1869.

Ward taught Edison telegraphy when he was agent of the Grand Trunk line at Mount Clemens, Mich., and Edison a newsboy on the trains of that line. Young Edison, then 16, two years younger than his tutor, rushed to the key desk whenever the train pulled into the station and stayed until the whistle blew, learning only a letter or two at a time until he had mastered it. That was in 1862, and the electrical wizard was a master at the key when the Civil War called Ward to the Union army as an operator for General Grant's staff. After the war Ward came to California with a commercial company.

STATE LEADS OIL OUTPUT OF NATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The total production of crude oil in California for September amounted to 12,205,148 barrels, an average of 406,838 barrels per day. This is an increase of 24,617 barrels per day over August production. With a total production of 2,611,765 barrels, a daily average of 87,059, Long Beach takes first place from Midway-Sunset.

California has probably taken from Oklahoma the first place in production of oil.

Stocks increased during the month 1,987,107 barrels. The total stocks at the end of the month were 56,259,301 barrels.

Ninety-seven wells were completed during the month with an initial daily production of 76,347 barrels, compared with 76 wells completed during August with an initial production of 52,553 barrels.

HUGE BRITISH TANKS ACCOMMODATE 50

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Despite the veil of secrecy that is invariably thrown around the development of new engines of destruction, news from reliable sources of a monster tank, capable of carrying 50 troops, which has just been constructed for the war of force has been made known.

One who participated in several of the recent trials stated "it was as comfortable as riding along a well-paved street in a taxi." These tests have been carried out in an isolated spot not far from London and every detail of construction has been jealously guarded by the military officials.

The new tank is designed along the same lines as those used against the Germans, but there have been numerous improvements. For instance, it is capable of a speed of 20 miles an hour, whereas the noisy, clumsy tanks of the last war could scarcely do eight miles at top speed.

In addition, greater attention has been given to interior comfort.

SEAL BEACH P. T. A. TO GATHER TUESDAY

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 3.—The next regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be held at the school auditorium next Tuesday, November 7, at 3 p. m.

The program will be on the general topic of thrift. President V. D. Miller of the new Seal Beach bank, will give a short address on "Thrift in the Community." Judge John C. Ord and others have promised three-minute talks. An interesting school number is promised by Miss Stroud's room.

Refreshments typical of the month of November will be served. All parents and others interested are urged to attend the meeting.

should be your choice—that's why it is the choice of millions of housewives who have learned their baking lessons through all their bake day experiences.The sale of Calumet is 2½ times as much as that of any other brand.Moderate in cost—prevents failure—never varies.A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

IN BATTLE AGAINST BAN ON CIGARETTESBOSTON, Nov. 3.—When it comes to a question of quitting cigarettes or quitting Wellesley College, Billie Burse of Barre, Vt., and Jean Roth of Stamford, Ct., elected to leave Wellesley flat."We're resigning," they said,
"as a protest against the antiquated notion that ladies do not smoke. Wellesley is too narrow.
They talk here of progress. Why, they don't know the meaning of the word.""The college does not permit of the development of the new woman. They frowned first on our knickers. Then they frowned on our ideas. And now, having found our cigarettes, they're frowning again.""They say 'nice people don't,'" said Billie. "That's bunk. Plain old-fashioned hokum. Why, as a matter of fact, our great-grandmothers of frontier times smoked corn-cob pipes. We're a reversion to type, only we're a little dainti-er about it."SHOPS, BANKS AND TYPEWRITERS FLED
FOR NURSE DUTIESCHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Young women are deserting the typewriters, the bank stool, the shops and the motion pictures to enter the nursing profession, according to statements made at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Association of Graduate Nurses, held at the Congress Hotel."There are more nurses now than there have been for five or six years," said Miss Mary E.
Wheeler, superintendent of the Illinois Training School for Nurses."There are several reasons for this. One is because nursing schools are being put on an educational basis, and are not under the military discipline they formerly were. The young woman of today is an independent creature.
She resented the old military discipline. The educational basis nursing has been put on attracts attention and has helped to raise the standard of the profession."CRIPPLE CREEK IS SCENE OF RENEWED
ACTIVITY IN MINESCRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Nov.
3.—Old timers of this once famous mining camp are seeing visions of a revival of those prosperous days when this section was the greatest gold producer in the world.Since 1918 there has been little or no activity and Cripple Creek, to the outsider, was not Cripple Creek of years ago, when gold was to be found at "grass roots" and money was spent lavishly.
The big mines have been closed, but with the discovery of several strikes of rich gold ore recently, pioneers are looking forward to boom days.Many of the old workings are reopening and scores of prospectively every active mine in the camp is producing gold and the famous Portland mine, from which millions of dollars worth of ore have been taken, reported to have located a large body of ore, samples of which have produced as high as $10,000 a ton at the mill.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG - SMELTZER,
Nov. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Alford spent Tuesday on business in Tus-tin.Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Brush recently visited in Huntington Beach with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Piers.R. J. Morgan and family were recent guests at Huntington Beach home of Mrs. M. A. Moore.Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Lamb and daughters, Alice and Lois, and Mrs.
Cener Stockton, of Santa Ana, were recent Long Beach visitors.The tomato supper given by the ladies of the M. E. church proved highly successful. The Lions' club of Huntington Beach gave several selections. The proceeds from the supper will be spent in paying part of the debt of the hall.Engagement Is Announced.
Mr. and Mrs. George B. Crane have announced the marriage of their daughter, Mary, to Arthur Giesler, of Huntington Beach.Mr. and Mrs. George Coker and son, George Jr., were guests in Los Angeles recently of Dr. Charles Diggs.Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr and family recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haas, at Yorba Linda.
Mrs. Alford and son, Russell, visited friends in Anaheim Wednesday.Mrs. Charles Maddux was called to Ontario recently by the severe illness of her father.

School Reopens.

As no new cases of diphtheria were reported the Springfield school opened Monday.Word has been received here by relatives of Reuben Clemens that he is ill in a hospital at Stockton. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gothard, Tim Tenick and Mrs. James Maddux left Thursday morning for Stockton, where they will remain until his condition changes. His mother, Mrs. Mary Clemens, is with him.The baby of Mr. and Mrs. Sim Tenick is ill.Mr. and Mrs. A. Ruoff and family attended a Halloween high jinks at Watts Monday.

Bazaar Is Planned.

The Ladies' Home Missionary society will give a bazaar and chicken pie supper at the M. E. hall December 9. The Lions' club of Hunteington Beach will entertain.Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dillon and daughters, Vilma and Opal, have moved to Escondido where Dillon will have charge of a ranch.Mr. and Mrs. Hall have moved into the house vacated by Eleys and are employed by Charles Parr.COWS HOLD UP TRAIN MOVEMENT IN NORTHANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 3.— Locomotive engineering problems, such as chasing cows off the track and waiting for horses to give up the right of way, are being encountered by engineers of the Alaska railroad just as they were encountered on the pioneer railroads of the "states" years ago.One train came into Anchorage from Nenana recently several hours behind time and reported it was held up by a herd of 15 hundred reindeer which assayed to cross the track in advance of the train. A little later a cow was encountered and a flock of hens darted across the track. One hen was killed."Just like railroadng through a sheep belt of Kansas," remarked the engineer.DELHI FARM LANDS
OPEN TO ALLOTMENTRIVERSIDE, Nov. 3.—The farms and farm laborers' allotments of the fourth and last unit of the Delhi State Land settlement are open for the inspection of all who desire a home in this colony.

Until November 30, intending settlers can make filings on equal terms. Applications will not be considered until the end of the month. On November 30 all the applications will be dealt with by a board. Where there are several applicants for a single farm, this board will decide after a hearing who is to obtain it.

There are in all 105 farms and eight farm laborers' allotments.
Some of these adjoin or are near the Balljo station on the Santa Fe railway and the others are near the Delhi station on the Southern Pacific railway, there being two railways and two railway stations on the settlement land.

FIRST BALL GAME SET.

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 3.—The Newport Beach baseball team is to play their opening game Sunday.
The practice game played on the local ground last Sunday between the El Modena team and the home team resulted in a score of 12 to 3 for the home team.

Laun-Dry-Ette
Way

is the greatest labor-saving system of washing that has ever been devised. For the Laun-Dry-Ette is both a washer and a dryer.

No Wringer to Feed

The Laun-Dry-Ette has no wringer. Instead of your having to force the clothes through a wringer one or two pieces at a time, the Laun-Dry-Ette whirles them dry in one minute—a whole tubful at a time.

No Extra Tubs to Handle

The Laun-Dry-Ette washes the clothes quickly and thoroughly with remarkably efficient vacuum cups. Washing, rinsing and bluing are all performed in turn in the Laun-Dry-Ette. And instead of wringing the clothes after each operation, you merely press a pedal, turn a switch, and the Laun-Dry-Ette whirles the clothes wringer-dry.

No Buttons to Sew On

In seven years no Laun-Dry-Ette has ever broken a button or injured a fastener. This is because the Laun-Dry-Ette system of centrifugal drying makes it impossible to injure the clothes in any way.

If you want the greatest labor-saving electrical washer you will buy the Laun-Dry-Ette. Please call, phone or write.

SANTA ANA FACES UNDEFEATED ORANGE TEAM TOMORROW

THREE UNDEFEATED SQUADS IN ACTION

Fullerton Meets Anaheim; Orange, Poly to Clash Here Tomorrow

ORANGE LEAGUE STANDING
	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Orange	3	0	0	1.000
Santa Ana	1	0	1	1.000
Fullerton	1	0	1	1.000
Huntington Beach	2	1	0	.667
Anaheim	1	3	0	.333
Tustin	0	3	0	.000

The three undefeated teams of the Orange league, Santa Ana, Orange and Fullerton, saw football action this afternoon or will play tomorrow.

"Shorty" Smith and his Fullerton squad which held Poly to a scoreless tie, traveled to Anaheim this afternoon, where it was expected, they will encounter little serious opposition.

Coach Ed Reed's Whittier high school aggregation, its two hard games of the year with Poly and Fullerton out of the way, took on Ray Walker's scrappy Huntington Beach eleven at the beach city.

Orange and Santa Ana will mingle in the feature attraction at Poly field tomorrow. Tustin remains idle this week.

Virtually all of the players from the league teams will be on hand for the game between Santa Ana and Orange.

NET STAR IS AGAIN TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Recovering from an infected finger that threatened his future in the game for a while William T. Tilden, world's tennis champion, is now laid up again with an attack of boils.

15 JUNIOR COLLEGE GRID MEN GET TRIP FOR FRACAS AT S. D.

Fifteen Santa Ana junior college football players will leave here early tomorrow morning for San Diego where in the afternoon the locals will grapple with the San Diego state college in the first game of the Southern California Junior College conference.

Coach Ed Hummel will be in charge of the Santa Ana men who will be without the services of Harold Knight, star halfback, who broke his collar bone in practice last Wednesday night.

Those who will make the southern jaunt are Captain Schuyler Bigelow, Arthur Burns, Carl Lewis, Minor Cox, "Chubbie" Kellogg, Harold Chaffee, John Clarkson, Marvin Clark, Avery Howell, Charlie Dawes, David Metz, Stanley Anderson, Charles Miller, Paul Nelson and Walter Kennedy.

Bigelow, Burns, Lewis and Kellogg probably will start the game in the Santa Ana backfield.

BRUISES TO BATTLE WASHINGTON STATE

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 3.—The California-Washington State football game at Berkeley stood out today as the main feature of tomorrow's coast football schedule.

The Washington State team will arrive in Berkeley tonight and will go into the game without opportunity for any preliminary practice.

California, which has been devoting most of the week to strengthening its offensive formations as a result of its failure to run up a satisfactory score last week against U. S. C., was looking for a tough contest.

Last year the best California could do was to beat Washington

BOXING PROMOTERS BEGIN RICKARD WAR

Ask Gotham Commission to Permit Exhibitions in State Armories

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—First legal steps in the war of promoters to take the monopoly of boxing in New York city away from Tex Rickard were taken in supreme court here today when the Republic Athletic club started action to permit exhibitions in state armories.

Justice Wagner in supreme court issued a writ of mandamus against the New York state athletic commission requesting them to appear Monday before Justice McAvoy and show cause why the Republic Athletic club should not be allowed to transfer its license from the Poly grounds to the big 102d regiment armory for the winter.

John M. O'Connor is president of the Republic club and Tom O'Rourke is its matchmaker.

O'Connor claims to have made arrangements for the rental of the armory.

The boxing commission has steadfastly held against the use of armories for boxing and, when these big arenas were barred, Rickard, with Madison Square Garden, the largest arena in the city, virtually monopolized boxing.

Reports from the north were that California need not expect to meet a team any weaker this year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—When Jack Britton lost his welterweight championship to young Micky Walker, the "old master" may have fought his last battle in the ring.

The veteran former champion says he has not decided definitely on his future, but close friends say that he has been ordered by his doctors to hang his gloves in the family closet.

For the immediate future, Britton is planning to take a long hunting vacation in the Maine woods and whether he will continue boxing depends on how he feels when he returns.

"I have been boxing so long that training has become almost a torture. Sometimes I think I am too old, but then I get to feeling like a youngster after a rest and I want to go back to it. I've been boxing since 1903 and I'm not so foolish as to think I can go on forever," he said.

While he may take up boxing again, he is not so sure that he will make another bid for the title he held so long.

Friends of the veteran are urging him to retire and enjoy the fruits of his long, honorable career in the ring. His doctors, it is said, have advised him to retire or accept the penalty of a complete nervous breakdown.

DAVE SHADE TO MEET NEW RING CHAMPION

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Dave Shade, California welterweight, will be the first opponent of Micky Walker, the new champion, in a title bout. Shade has posted $2500 and an official challenge with the state boxing commission.

ALLEGED THREAT IS BARED IN CAFE ROW

A recitation of alleged threats by Susan and Thomas Hersey to place her in an asylum should she "make trouble" for them in connection with endeavors to effect the return of $1000 which she said she advanced them to obtain a half interest in a La Habra restaurant, was contained in a suit that Mrs. Virgie A. Huskinson, sometimes known as Virgie Patterson, had on file in superior court here today.

Seeking a judgment declaring her half owner in the establishment, Mrs. Huskinson cited an alleged oral agreement made with the defendants in September, 1920, whereby she was to receive such interest in return for the sum in question. The Herseys refused to return the money and voiced the asylum threat against the plaintiff, according to the complaint.

FRAUD CLAIM MADE IN ANNULMENT SUIT

Fraud and deception were used in obtaining his consent to marriage in 1920 with Harriette Davis, Paul J. Davis of Los Angeles, asserted in a suit for annulment of marriage which was on file in superior court here today.

Mrs. Davis was the victim of disease when the marriage was entered into, the plaintiff alleges. He did not, he asserted, discover this until after the marriage, he alleged.

3 County Boys Get Trip to South With Stanford Freshmen Team

Three Orange county boys arrived in Los Angeles today as members of the Stanford freshmen football team which will meet the strong U. S. C. first year squad there tomorrow afternoon.

They are Gilbert McDermont, end; Al Claves and Bill Cook, halfbacks.

McDermont played with "Shorty" Smith's Fullerton high school aggregation last season. Claves and Cook were in the backfield for Anaheim high.

Northern California newspapers have highly praised the work of the trio, especially Cook who is described as being the fastest man on the Cardinal freshman squad as well as the best open field runner.

Wayne Clark, former Santa Ana high school player, is on the Stanford squad but he did not get the trip south. "Tubby" Crawford is playing with the Card second varsity. George Baker is on the Stanford varsity squad and made the trip to Corvallis last week when his team clashed with the Oregon Aggies. Baker has broken into several games this season but he has the tough luck to be the first string substitute for Dud De Groot, Stanford captain, who is regarded as the best center on the Pacific Coast.

While the football hopes of Santa Ana and Orange hung in the balance, the high school team of each city rested tonight for the battle here tomorrow afternoon that will result in the elimination of one as a contender for the championship of the Orange league.

Orange will enter the fray for the first time in its grid history as a team to be feared. It has not tasted defeat this season.

Santa Ana, also unbeaten except for a practice game early in the season, will lineup favored to win and with the realization that no Orange football team ever has defeated the local school.

The teams will weigh virtually the same.

The true strength of the Orange eleven is almost unknown to the local sport followers. At the beginning of the season its team, which is coached by H. M. Davis, a member of the University of Illinois squad three years ago, defeated Chaffey Union High school 6 to 3. Chaffey is tied for the leadership of the Orange Belt league. Riverside high school then fell before the little county squad.

Orange Undefeated. During its league season, Davis' team has met and beaten Huntington Beach, Tustin and Anaheim, regarded as the three weakest squads in the circuit. The real test for the visitors will come tomorrow.

Coach Marvin Morrison, Santa Ana's coach, admits that he fears and respects the ability of the Orange team. He recently declared that he believed it might be one of the toughest games of the season.

He will take no chances tomorrow. His strongest backfield, Captain Wilcox, Roy Le Bard, Carl Black and Earl Jabs, will start the game. Morrison has revealed that much in connection with his battle plans.

Three men who have ranked as substitutes are hoped to begin the tilt in the Poly line. Ed Linsbard has worked out all week with the first stringers at center. Ritchie showed so much stuff at Hollywood that he probably will start at left guard. "Buck" Fipps has been on the sick list with a bad cold. Thole, who began the season as an end, will be used at tackle.

Gardner, Coffman Ends. Gardner and Coffman will start at the end, Coulson at right tackle and "Chappie" Townsend at left guard.

Morrison has drilled his charges hard for the Orange affair. A long afternoon's scrimmage with Hollywood high school was on the bill last Tuesday afternoon. A strong bunch of ineligible and first string substitutes formed the opposition Wednesday.

The local chieftain evidently fears an open attack. Football followers who have watched Poly in all its games believe that that is the chief weakness of the squad. The secondary defense men have allowed teams to work many forward passes on them. They have been drilled all week to break up the air game.

The speedy Orange halfbacks, "Rube" Thompson and Charlie Johnson, along with little Hampton, quarterback and captain, undoubtedly will rely on that kind of an offense. Few teams have made many yards through the heavy Santa Ana line and aside from Brubaker, fullback and star kicker, the visitors have no line plunger of ability.

NOTRE DAME STAR IS OUT WITH INJURIES

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 3.—Gus Desch, star Notre Dame halfback, has been removed from the team for the season with a bruised heel. He is captain of the track team and world's champion low hurdler and the coaches do not want to run the risk of losing him for the track team.

DOGS FROLIC, ONE DIES, MAN INJURED AND WOMAN MOURNS

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 2.—Two dogs innocently scuffling in a street here yesterday brought death to one of them, grief to a woman motorist, and a painfully lacerated hand to Roy Ropp, local carpenter.

The dogs, one of which was owned by Ropp, were struck during their tussle by an auto driven by a woman.

Rushing to the rescue of his bowser Ropp picked the dog up in an effort to save its life. The dog bit him. Now it's dead, and Ropp is being treated by a physician.

NAVEL CROP TO SELL FOR BIG SUM, BELIEF

ANAHEIM, Nov. 3.—Stiff prices for the new crop of navel oranges, in comparison with previous years, are foreseen by local association managers, in consequence of the smaller volume of fruit to be marketed.

In other words, the Anaheim district is likely to benefit from valencias, just as it did on valencias, because of its proportionately larger share of the crops as a whole, due to less damage.

The district will have fully as large a crop as last year, according to Manager J. H. Ritchie of the Anaheim Co-Operative Orange association. Ritchie estimates the navel crop as a whole at only 50 per cent of normal against the 60 to 90 per cent claimed in the important districts.

It is necessary to have all navels for the Christmas trade shipped not later than December 10, Ritchie declared. Picking must begin by December 1.

The Anaheim Co-Operative will conclude shipping valencias by the end of this week. It expects to ship 25 to 30 cars.

The Stewart Fruit company's local house also will close its shipping season this week.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Nov. 3.—The Barnett Boys were home from Berkeley Saturday. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter are home again. Carter said he is glad to be home again.

Teachers council of the Sunday school, held at the home of Clate Stanfield, was well attended, there being twenty present. After the business session Mrs. Stanfield served refreshments.

The Woman's Bazaar class met at the home of Mrs. R. Mapson. Mrs. J. M. Brutaker was unanimously elected class teacher. The ladies busied themselves making clothes for a destitute family at Haleck.

The new Sunday school room is ready for occupancy Sunday. It is not completed, but it can be used.

Miss Ola Holomay, in her closed car decorated with growing pumpkins, delighted the little folks here by a ride to Jay Stoves' and a fudge party.

Mrs. Sondricher was expected home Thursday for a few weeks' visit with home folks. She lives at Haleck.

Mrs. Fred Mahoney, of Santa Ana, spent Wednesday with her mother. She will move into her new home here in a few days.

BREA WOMAN IS ILL AS RESULT OF BITE ON LIMB BY SPIDER

BREA, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Floyd Gabriel, of Brea, is suffering from a poisonous spider bite which she received while returning home from a dinner party Sunday evening. Ordinarily the bite would not have caused any illness but due to the fact that the insect bite is directly over a vein, on the left limb, the poison was spread over the entire body before the patient could be gotten home. A doctor was called immediately and first aid rendered.

Although Mrs. Gabriel is quite ill, her entire system being filled with the poison, which upset her stomach, caused her eyes to swell badly, also severe cramps, she is resting easier. Her family and friends were greatly alarmed over her condition yesterday.

ECONOMY CLUB HAS DELIGHTFUL PARTY

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 2.—Among the many Halloween parties this season was a delightful affair of the Household Economy club Tuesday evening at the Wesley Smith place.

The guests came dressed in masquerade costumes and much time was spent in guessing who the others were. Halloween and guessing games were played in an artistic setting of corn stalks, pumpkins and jack o'lanterns.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie, doughnuts, popcorn balls and coffee were served to about thirty members of the club and their guests.

'INDIA' IS TOPIC AT MISSIONARY MEETING

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 2.—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. A. D. Hoenshel, Wednesday. The forenoon was spent in a social time. A luncheon was served at noon.

The regular business meeting was held in the afternoon. Mrs. C. B. Crosby had charge of the program. Mrs. Will Schmitzer gave a review of the first chapter from the regular study book, the subject was on "India." Devotions were led by Mrs. Susan Chaffee.

There was a good attendance at this meeting.

WOMEN ARE URGED TO HEAR SENATOR SPEAK

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 3.—All members of the Women's Civic club were urged to attend the meeting of the organization today at 2:30 p. m., when Senator Walter Eden, of Santa Ana, addressed them on the various measures to be acted upon at the polls next Tuesday.

BROODER LAMP FIRES; CHICKS ARE RESCUED

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 2.—A hundred tiny Leghorn chicks, owned by Ralph Rumbold, were none the worse today, following their narrow escape from death Sunday when a lamp exploded in their brooder. Thirteen of the chicks were suffocated and several died later.

Only the prompt action of Rumbold by dragging the flaming brooder away from the house saved the dwelling from being burned. When the attention of the owner was attracted flames were leaping up the side of the house to the roof, scorching the paint.

BLEACHER CAPACITY IS MADE FOR 2100

FULLERTON, Nov. 3.—In order to accommodate the big crowds at the football games at the Fullerton high school it has become necessary to build new bleachers, so carpenters are at work on the west end of the present bleachers.

The present bleachers will hold about 1500 people and the new bleachers will hold 600 more, making a total seating capacity of 2100.

The bleachers will be finished by November 11 for the Armistice day game between Santa Barbara and Fullerton high school teams.

MERGER OF CHAMBER AND MERCHANTS PLAN

ORANGE, Nov. 3.—Merger of the Orange Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' association is being considered here, pending the formation of a suitable plan of operation of a merchants' bureau in connection with the chamber.

Decision to take action toward a merger of the organizations came when about sixty members of the organizations met as guests of President N. T. Edwards, of the chamber at a luncheon in The Coffee Cup.

TEACHERS ARE ENTERTAINED GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 2.—The high school and grammar school teachers were entertained at the home of Mrs. D. C. Hogie, Tuesday evening. A taffy pull and fancy work helped to pass a pleasant evening.

RUMMAGE SALE IS ON

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 3.—The rummage sale conducted by the Woman's Civic club commenced Wednesday and will continue on Thursday and Saturday. No sales will be made Friday, owing to the regular meeting of the Civic club. Saturday the ladies will hold a cooked food sale at Wheeler's meat market.

RAY IS BEAU BRUMMEL IN "TAILOR MADE MAN"

Beau Brummel had nothing on John Paul Bart, as he is portrayed by Charles Ray in the screen version of "A Tailor Made Man," Ray's first big feature for United Artists, now playing at the West End theatre.

Those who have seen the ever lovable Ray in his rural characterizations, and have associated him with overalls, high-water boots and broad-brimmed straw headgear, must be pleasantly surprised to see him in full evening dress, smart sport togs, and other habiliments familiar to the leisure class.

And what is emphatically the point, it is highly improbable that anyone can wear spiffy apparel with the ease and grace displayed by the erstwhile portrayer of "Tubs." He more than plays the part of a tailor made man, he is the tailor made man, in fact, epitomizes the type of sartorial perfection.

ORANGE

ORANGE, Nov. 3.—Miss Audrey Isbell, of South Grand street, gave a recital at her home recently.

Mrs. Flora White, of Los Angeles, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Catherine Fletcher, on East Chapman avenue.

Nearly Died On Birthday

"On my last birthday, eight months ago, I had another close call. We had just finished dinner. My stomach began to hurt me, a minute later I lay unconscious. Three doctors worked on me. I was soaked with a cold sweat when I came to. The next week, telling a friend about it and he advised trying Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking a course of your medicine I have been able to eat anything. I have no more pains or bloating and am feeling better than for ten years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists. —Adt.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Thompson and daughter, Miss Laura Thompson, of Pomona, spent Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Thompson. Thompson sr. has recently returned from a business trip to Arizona.

Word received by friends here from Bill Kerr indicates that he is much pleased with life at Stanford, is getting along well and was one of the thirty per cent to pass the entrance examination in English. He has become a member of the Delta Tau Delta society.

Miss Leona Blakey attended the funeral of Mrs. Martha Smith, a friend of her father, both of them being members of a party crossing the plains in 1859.

Former Resident Dies Word has been received here of the death of N. A. Gilman in San Diego. He was a former resident of this place and a member of the Fraternal Aid Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil McClintock and children were recent guests of his mother, Mrs. J. A. McClintock, in Santa Ana. Miss Mabel McClintock, of Glendale, was also there.

J. J. Stoves, who is employed in one of the Santa Ana creameries, was forced to stop work a couple of days recently on account of blood poisoning in one of his fingers caused by a bruise.

Willis Fowler and family, of San Diego, called recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stoves. Fowler is superintendent of the Arrow Packing company and went to San Pedro on business.

Citizen is Ill Mrs. E. A. Hare and Mrs. R. E. Larter called recently at the home of George Wright, who is ill.

Miss Amanda Knox was a guest of Miss Alice Wilburn at Signal Hill recently.

Here's Your White Star Operating Policy!

Remember that drilling policy of "speed with safety"? Following that, we gave you interest-holders the fastest well ever put down from grass-roots to production at Santa Fe Springs.

NOW—the same kind of OPERATING policy—production with safety.

We could "cock her back" and let her flow unchecked and have a 2000 or a 2500 or possibly even a 3000 barrel gusher—and in a few days have the same kind of grief as a good share of "producers" have encountered.

Instead, we beamed your well down immediately to 800 barrels. After 15 days of steady, constant flow we've let her step up to 1100. Later we'll let her increase still more—and you bet your whole bank roll that your White Star Well No. 1 will flow steadily month in and month out.

Incidentally, your well is making oil with only two-tenths of one per cent sand and sediment—and the refinery makes no deduction whatever for that percentage, but pays for CLEAN OIL, of 31.5 gravity.

A well flowing a thousand barrels EVERY day is a GOLD MINE. It is worth a dozen of the kind that spout one day and must be cleaned out or deepened the next. You White Star owners have one of the BIGGEST and STEADIEST gushers in all Santa Fe Springs—and the proof of this statement will lie in the size of the dividend check you will receive in November. We have no more interests in this well for sale—if you can buy them elsewhere you will secure a REAL investment, paying a very high monthly dividend.

Practical Notes on the S. S. Lesson

Prepared for The Register by Cal. Ogden

Lesson for November 5, Luke 5:17-26. JESUS THE GREAT PHYSICIAN.

"He was teaching; and there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, who were come out of every village of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem."—v. 17. The man who is saying or doing extraordinary things will not wait for an audience. People will gather about him, even though it be a long and difficult journey to the place of his abode. And almost as many motives will prompt their coming as there are persons present. But a "crowd" should never be taken as indubitable evidence of a man's popularity. It may be the opposite. There are preachers who gather the masses that, because of various sensational and other equally questionable methods employed they "get the crowd," they are being held in high esteem. A "human-spider," crawling up the side of a ten-story building, will not lack for a crowd to witness his daredevil exploit. But it is the morbid curiosity of the crowd and not its popularity that is the secret of their presence. They think "the fool may fall and kill himself," and they want to see him, if he does. The preacher may hypnotize "a perfect mob of people" come to witness his pulpit pyrotechnics. If he knew what nineteenth of the thoughtful men and women in the community—both in the church and out of it—were saying about his "egotism and freakishness" he would be disillusioned. A crowd is at best no more than an opportunity for the man who said or did the extraordinary things that attracted the people to him to do them good.

From no selfish motive whatever Jesus said and did things that were strikingly out of the ordinary, and as a result the people came to him in great numbers. Some, like the Pharisees and doctors of the law, came to find fault; others came out of the merest curiosity; and a great many had scarcely any motive at all. The crowd was going in that direction and they went along. And there were many others who sought Jesus for the lesser benefit they might receive. He said they came for "the loaves and fishes." Probably a comparatively small number had an unselfish purpose in coming to Jesus. All of these classes of persons, but undoubtedly with a larger proportion of the unselfish may be found in every religious assembly today. Jesus was not responsible for the various motives that brought the people to him. He was not "fishing for popularity." If what he said and did were extraordinary, and correspondingly attractive to the people, these were not matters of his choosing. He never for a moment forgot that he was God's representative. He had a message from the Judge of all earth to deliver, and whether the delivery of this message made him talked about and sought after or did not was of no concern to him. Men who presume to be God's representatives now should invariably exemplify this trait of Jesus. God must be saying to them, as he said to Jonah, "Preach the preaching that I bid thee."

"Not finding by what they might bring him in because of the multitude."—v. 19. Mark says the paralytic was "borne of four." Four lifters and a multitude of loungers! Is this still the proportion? Ask the man, who has placed above his desk bearing this significant inscription: "THIS IS MY BUSY DAY." Ask the architect, who has, at the entrance to the building under construction, this notice: "KEEP OUT. THIS MEANS YOU!" Ask the policeman who must "club back" the morbid crowd in case of an accident. If the park benches could talk, what would they say concerning the "loungers" who fill them day after day, and hold one eternally-long gabfest? If you are so foolish as to think that God has made and envied you so that you are unable to "lift" only a very little, for the sake of your self-respect lift every ounce of which you are capable. If you will lift the ounces, soon you will be able to lift pounds and tons. Begin by doing something—however small—for somebody—no matter how insignificant and undeserving that somebody may seem to you. Don't be a lounge. Rather than that, jump off the pier, take rough-on-rats, or secure the agency for the ex-Kaiser's Memoirs!

A multitude of people—smug, self-satisfied, indolent, selfish—who said by their immobility, "Let the paralytic go hang!" Our own privileges and pleasures come first—last, and all the time! How does it look—as an "on-looker"—to be a lounge, a loafer, a lazy lout? Yes, how does it look to you, when the cry of distress is coming from Smyrna and a thousand other places in the Near East? "Borne of four!" Instead it should have been "Borne by a multitude of willing hands and ready hearts." But surely it should be—must be—so now. The need is so great. There never were so many "paralytic" in the world as there are today.

"They went up to the housetop, and let him down through the tiles with his couch into the midst before Jesus."—v. 19. Heaven must be a place where, among many other pleasures, will be that of forming the acquaintance of persons who unselfishly do good deeds while on earth. If so it will be a happy occasion when meeting for the first time the four men who brought the palsied man to Jesus that he might be healed. And why not this one of heaven's pleasures? Nothing is more gratifying now to the normal person than to know those who devote their time to ministering to the needy. If it wasn't a decided pleasure to you to be introduced to the Salvation Army Lassie who was an angel of mercy night and day "over there," then you need not talk about the enjoyments of heaven. If you got no thrill of pleasure out of that introduction, heaven would be no more to you than wash-day and a tub of suds.

But who were these four men? Why, man, that's an unnecessary question. We know them very well. Oh, no, not by name, or genealogy, or place of residence. But that doesn't matter in the least. These do not help us to know anybody. These are all mere accidents, for which no man is responsible. These four men were tactful, purposeful, resourceful, determined, sympathetic "Somebodies"—maybe Jews, perhaps Gentiles. But their nationality, just as the religious cult to which they may or may not have belonged, is of little moment. They were humanitarians, philanthropists, and all lived in "Philadelphia," which, as you know, means "city of brotherly love," but may have been spelled Gath, Nazareth, Tyre, or Bethany. But where do you live? Are you really and truly a citizen of "Philadelphia?" and does some "paralytic" know it to be so? Do you know that to live in "Philadelphia" is a greater honor than to "reside" in Boston, or San Francisco, and more pleasure-giving than to have a home in one of the "exclusive" residential districts of Los Angeles?

"Go unto thy house."—v. 24. Go home to your loved ones, shut the door—shut the world out—and with them, live in heaven! All in good health and happy together! And what but this is heaven on earth? Poor—all poor? Yes, so poor that they paid no taxes, maybe. And yet their squalid home glittered with gold like that of John's New Jerusalem. And the four men? They "dropped in" that evening and found the atmosphere of that home paradisaical. A part of it they brought with them. "Never did anything before," that gave me so much pleasure."

100,000 BREWERIES IN MILWAUKEE, CLAIM

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 3.—Instead of one distillery, Milwaukee now has 10,000 and instead of eight breweries it has 100,000. So prohibition officials told the common council at the hearing on the Reynolds resolution, which calls upon the city health officials to put a stop to the dumping of home brew and mash taken from homes which are raided.

TRAGIC ISLAND NOW HAVEN OF MAN'S REST

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 3.—

Once the setting for one of the most gruesome tragedies in the history of the Pacific, Pitcairn island, four thousand miles south of San Francisco, has become a haven of rest for a man who went there 12 years ago, grief burdened with the death of his wife.

In 1881 Lincoln Clark, then 15 years old, was shipwrecked on Ducie reef, three hundred miles east of Pitcairn, which the crew reached after 15 days in small boats. They remained on the island nine months, until rescued by a passing vessel.

Almost 36 years later, in 1910 Clark, a prominent Mason of Los Angeles, following the death of his wife, set out once more for Pitcairn, with his son, who later married an island woman, determined to spend the rest of his life in the tropical paradise.

Discovered by Carteret in 1767, Pitcairn in 1790 became the residence of mutineers from the British sloop of war Bounty, whose number included nine Englishmen, six Tahitian men and 12 women. The mutineers quarreled among themselves, however, until only one man, John Adams, survived, although most of the women and children were unharmed. Adams became religious and instructed the children of the colony in Christianity.

Mutiny Forgotten
A quarter century later, so impressed were visiting British officers with the esteem in which Adams was held by the islanders, it is said they agreed to forget his part in the Bounty mutiny.

Pitcairn is now a very fertile land, with sweet potatoes, yams, tura, corn, coffee, bananas, coconuts, pineapples and other tropical products in abundance. The greatest need of the inhabitants, according to a recent letter from Clark, is clothes for the women, most of whom are now wearing made over men's shirts for dresses, and "glassy candy" for the children. Friends of Clark here recently collected quantities of both to send to Pitcairn.

WANTS TO PAY OFF 11 YEAR OLD DEBTS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—Eleven years ago S. Paul, a hardware merchant with stores at Montgomery City and Jonesboro, Mo., failed for $12,000. The case was settled in court, creditors taking a heavy loss. Yesterday the clerk of court of the United States District court received a letter from Paul who is living at Muncie, Ind., declaring he was now in a position to pay in full.

WALNUT GROWER BUYS ACREAGE

Ed Johnson, prominent walnut grower, 2073 Bush street, has purchased a parcel of land in the Bixby ranch subdivision, known as Cerro Villa Heights, in the Villa Park district, through the C. B. Berger company realty offices in Anaheim, it was announced today.

The property, seven and a half acres, is planted to 2-year-old Valencia oranges, and is equipped with a modern irrigation system. The Berger company announces that the development work by the Bixbys in Cerro Villa Heights is virtually completed and that it now has a limited amount of additional acreage to offer.

Be Your Own "Inspector" and "Advisor"

Every man who lives in his own grove day by day and keeps his eyes open, should recognize the needs of his trees. The first and greatest requirement is proper food and plenty of it. Next, proper irrigation. Then, correct cultivation.

These essentials properly cared for, a healthy vigorous tree is established; and the pests, the winds and the frosts, need not worry you. The wind will come, the frost may, and the pests surely. With a vigorous tree and "Fumi-spray" the known pests are impotent to harm. Where size of trees and nature of soil will permit, 1, 2, or even 3, inoculated Cover-crops per year, will supply all essential food that is lacking in most soils. Wisdom and judgment must be used, according to character of soil in applying water and cultivation. The experienced orchardist who don't know the needs of his own grove better than any "Official Inspector" or "Advisor," deserves not to have charge of a grove.

MANY SUBJECTS IN NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

What Margot Asquith thinks of America; what life with the gypsies is like; how to be scientific in selling and advertising; how the beginner in the study of psychology may gain a sound knowledge of this subject—these and many other matters are treated in a number of new non-fiction books that have been added to the shelves of the public library here, Miss Jeannette McFadden, librarian, announced today.

In the following list, the descriptive paragraphs included in each case are taken from publishers' announcements:

Roy C. Andrews, "Camp and Trails in China"—Here is a story of exploration, full of adventure and romance, told by the leader of the expedition, into the lair of the mysterious Blue Tiger and the wild unknown section of Northern China, along the border of Tibet, the Forbidden Land.

G. G. Atkins, "Jerusalem Past and Present"—A rare book for style as well as subject, insight, historic perspective and spiritual suggestions. It is a book of knowledge, but also of power, of exquisite diction and literary charm, values that both charm the mind and set the heart to heavenly music.

Margot Asquith, "My Impressions of America"—For frankness Margot Asquith holds the palm. Her autobiography was a storm center for months for this very reason. Now she has set down what she thinks of us after a tumultuous tour of the United States last fall. The book is brilliant and provocative and will be read and discussed for its friendly, spicy estimation of a nation she admires very greatly.

L. E. Biech, "Your Inner Self"—"Psychoanalysis is a term known to all, but understood by few. Dr. Biech wrote this book to simplify the terms and clarify the significance of an obscure science."

Irving Brown, "Nights and Days on the Gypsy Trail"—Irving Brown has been living with the gypsies, and this true account of his adventures among those proud and reckless people is as amazing and revealing as Romany Rye and others of George Borrow's gypsy chronicles.

F. L. Bullard, "The Father"—"Here is a little book so exquisitely and genuinely alive in its unaffected and intimate picture of the last weeks of the great war president that it should instantly take rank among the finest things in the over-large list of Lincoln reminiscences."

L. A. Coolidge, "Life of Ulysses S. Grant"—"One of the most completely satisfying and inspirational biographies that have been published, because it is more than a biography—it breathes with the spirit of the men who made history."

W. C. Curtis, "Science and Human Affairs"—"The current furor over human evolution finds an answer in this volume."

Walter de la Mare, "Memoirs of a Midget"—"Here is a great book. Years hence this book may still be read, because part of our literary inheritance, a piece of greatness because it is a piece of human life, hitherto left unrevealed—revealed now in a broad, immense sort of manner, with that gesture of creation belonging to the true artist full of unconscious power."

Arthur Dunn, "Scientific Selling and Advertising"—"A ready reference and inspirational book for advertising men, sales managers, manufacturers, jobbers, canvassers, lawyers, merchants—anyone who has something to sell."

Wilfrid Ewart, "A Journey in Ireland"—"With peculiar significance comes a volume such as this to a world puzzled by the grim contradictions of peritization and gazing horrified at the warclouds shot through with the murderous flashes and detonations which have hung over Ireland."

R. C. Givler, "Psychology"—"It is the purpose of this book to supply the beginner or the casual reader with a sound knowledge of what the author calls human behavior."

F. R. Hart, "Admirals of the Caribbean"—"Sketches of Drake, Morgan, de Pointis, and other famous admirals whose lives combine to make a complete history of three thrilling centuries of adventure in the Caribbean."

Martin Johnson, "Cannibalism"—"Here is a book about the South Seas that is different. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have been exploring in the unknown parts of the New Hebrides in search of veritable cannibals. Their search was successful and on several occasions they both had very narrow escapes from devouring the objects of their quest."

R. M. Johnston, "The Corsican"—"Every word is Napoleon's own. He has painted his picture as Peps and the other famous diarists never succeeded in painting theirs. It is one of the great diaries of literature."

William Johnston, "The Fun of Being a Fat Man"—"The fat man's philosophy of life includes these aphorisms: What happens doesn't count. It's what you think about what happens that counts. Today's troubles are tomorrow's jokes, so let's laugh. Nothing can happen to me that hasn't happened to thousands of others, and if they could stand it, I can."

Rudyard Kipling, "Poems and Ballads."

Christopher Morley, "Translations from the Chinese."

M. M. Parker, "Jolly Monologues."

"Radio Phone Receiving"—"A complete and authentic book that will be the standard authority on radio telephone receiving for everybody."

A. P. Scott, "Introduction to the Peace Treaties"—"The author gives valuable information regarding the causes of the war, the aims of the belligerents, the peace proposals, and the framing of the Treaty of Peace."

W. E. Traprock, "My Northern Exposure"—"An account of the adventures of the redoubtable Dr. Traprock who set out to discover the real North Pole, but undertake their voyage in a most unusual manner."

C. H. Van Tyne, "Causes of the War of Independence"—"Among scholars there has been during the last twenty years a decided modification in the old views of the causes which led to the American Revolution."

Harry Vardon, "The Gist of Golf."

J. P. Xenides, "The Greeks in America"—"Why is a Greek ever a Greek? Is he a loyal American? How can Greeks remain Greeks and yet be loyal to America? These are some of the difficult questions discussed by Mr. Xenides with keen insight and illuminating sympathy."

DARK FACE POWDER PROVING POPULAR

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Popularity of dark or "mauresque" face powder among women here and abroad is attributed to Hollywood film stars, many of whom affect foreign skins.

The new style, particularly adapted to brunettes, has been used by Gloria Swanson, Barbara La Marr and others which gives them a swarthy appearance. The effect, it has been revealed, is produced by a certain powder of the shade called "mauresque." With this, the eyes appear much darker, and no rouge whatsoever is used. The lips are made cardinal red, which blends with the deep brown skin.

Mae Busch relates that in London recently she saw at the races a woman she took to be a princess from Persia, perhaps.

HORSES COME BACK INTO USE, REPORT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—The crop and market report of the United States Department of Agriculture for September shows 89.4 per cent increase in horse receipts for September this year as compared to the same month last year.

Horses received in 46 public stockyards in September totaled 41,327, an increase of 19,509 over September last year.

This indicates a movement and a general increase in the use of horses commercially.

The total thus far for 1922 sustains both points. The first nine months' total is ahead of last year's by 52,934 horses, or a general increase through the year of 23.3 per cent.

The reason given by the Horse Association of America for increased demand is that business firms are beginning to discriminate in the kind of equipment used for long and short haul and route delivery work.

IF YOU HAVE A SALARY AND ARE HONEST YOU CAN BORROW FROM US

Character and earning capacity are the basis on which this company lends money. Persons who do not have good collateral on which they can borrow through the usual banking channels often need a small loan which they cannot ordinarily secure without being subjected to embarrassing conditions, the assignment of wages or ruinous terms. We make such loans on a fair basis, and arrange for easy repayment through small sums paid weekly, semi-monthly, or monthly. Come in and ask about the helpful loan plan of the Peoples Finance and Thrift Company.

Did You Ever Hear Anything Like This?

The Six Greatest Humorists in the World Have Been Secured for The City Life Section of The Sunday Examiner. Never in All the History of Journalism Has One Newspaper Offered to Its Readers Such a Brilliant Galaxy.

There Is Not a Magazine Published and Sold at Any Price That Has Ever Attempted to Present in One Issue Such an Array of World-Famous Humorists as These Six Brilliant Stars Who Will Make the City Life Section Alone Worth More Than the Price of the Whole Sunday Paper:

H. C. Witwer George Ade Ring Lardner
Irvin S. Cobb Montague Glass and Beginning November 12 Peter Finley Dunne
Creator of "Mr. Dooley"

WITWER has never written anything so scintilant as his "Shooting Stars," a series of letters to "Dug" Fairbanks from "America's Favorite Idol," the self-complacent Ed Harmon. MONTAGUE GLASS next Sunday intrigues his "two most famous twins in modern literature," Abe Potash and "Mawruss" Perlmutter, into an argument over "Modern Improvements," which fairly sparkles with wit and quaint philosophy. GEORGE ADE offers another of his whimsical fables, this time, "The Fable of The Rise and Flight of the Winged Insect." RING LARDNER this week chooses to spin a fabulous yarn about "Helping Out the Arctic Golf Club," and IRVIN S. COBB is just Cobb—and that's plenty.

EPISODE TEN
The Twilight of Mike.

When Quintana turned like an enraged snake on Sard and drove him to his destruction, he would have killed and robbed the frightened diamond broker had he dared risk the shot. He had intended to do this anyway, sooner or later. But with the noise of the hunting dogs filling the forest, Quintana was afraid to fire.

About an hour later Quintana was seen, challenged, chased and shot at by State Trooper Lannis. Quintana ran. And what with the dense undergrowth of seedling beech and oak and the head falling birch and poplar and leaves, Lannis lost Quintana and his trail.

The State Trooper had left his horse at the cross-roads near the scene of Darrah's masked exploit, where he had stopped and robbed Sard—and now Lannis hastened back to find and mount his horse, and gallop straight into the first growth.

There was no sound of dogs when Lannis rode in on the narrow, spotted trail whence he had flushed Quintana into the dense growth of saplings that bordered it.

Once, very, very far away toward the direction of Star Pond he fancied he heard a faint whistling in the air that might have been hounds baying.

He was right. And at that very moment Sard was dying, horribly, among two trapped otters as big and fierce as the dogs that had driven them into the drain.

Somewhere among the birches, between him and Star Pond, was Harrod Place. And the idea occurred to him that Quintana might have ventured to ask food and shelter there. Yet, that was not likely because Trooper Stormont had called him that morning from the Hatchery Lodge.

However, to reassure himself, Lannis rode as far as Harrod Place, and then game wardens on duty along the line.

Then he turned west and trotted his mount down to the hatchery, where he saw Ralph Wier, the superintendent, standing outside the lodge talking to his assistant, George Fry.

When Lannis rode up on the opposite side of the brook, he called out to Wier:

"You haven't seen anything of our crooked outfit around here, have you, Ralph? I'm looking for that kind."

"See here," said the superintendent, "I don't know but George Fry may have seen one of your guys. Come over here and tell me. I'll tell you what happened. A few days ago Fry's boyish face seemed agitated; he looked up at the State Trooper with the flush of tears in his gaze and pointed at the rifle Lannis carried:

"If I'd had that," he said excitedly, "I'd have brought in a crook, you bet!"

"What do you see him?" inquired Lannis.

"Just west of the Scaur, about an hour and a half ago. I was stockin' the head of Scaur Brook with fingerlings. . . . You know how it is in the woods. . . . I kinda felt somebody near. And, by cracky!—there stood a man with a big, black automatic pistol, and he had a head of my belly."

"Well," said I, "what's troubling you and your gun, my friend?"—I was that astonished.

"He was a slim-built, powerful guy with a foreign face and voice and way. He wanted to know if he had the honor—as he put it—to introduce himself to a detective game constable, or a friend of Mike Clinch."

"I told him I wasn't any of these, and that I worked in a private hatchery; and he called me a liar."

Young Fry's face flushed and his voice began to quiver:

"That's the way he misused me; and he backed me into a corner with both hands up. Then he filled my pack-basket with grub, and took my ax, and strapped my kit onto his back. . . . And talking all the time in his mean, sneery, foreign way—and I guess he thought he was funny, for he laughed at his own jokes."

"Then he came to me, me his name was Quintana, and that he ought to shoot me for a rat, but wouldn't because of the stink. Then he said he was going to do a quick job that the police were too cowardly to do—that he was going to lead Mike Clinch down to Drowned Valley and kill him; and if he could kill Mike Clinch, he would spoil her face for life."

"What next?" demanded the Trooper impatiently. "Tell your story and quit thinking how you were misused!"

"He told me to stay in the shanty for an hour or he'd do me for good," cried Fry. "Once I got up and went to the door; and there he stood by the brook, waving my lunch with both hands. I tell you he cursed and drove me, like a dog, inside with his big pistol—my God—like a dog."

"Then, the next time I took a chance he was gone. . . . And I beat it to get me a rifle—! The boy broke down and sobbed: 'He drove me around—like a dog!'"

"You leave that to me," interrupted Lannis sharply. And, to Wier: "You and George had better get a gun apiece. That fellow might come back here or go to Harrod Place if we starve him out."

Wier said to Fry: "Go up to Harrod Place and tell Janzen your story and bring back two 15-70's. . . . And quit sniveling. You may get a shot at him yet."

Behind the curtains of her open window Eve Strayer, lying on her bed, heard every word.

Crouched there beside her pillow, she heard the snarl and saw Trooper Lannis ride away, and the Fry boy start toward Harrod Place on a run; saw Ralph Wier watch them out of sight and then turn and re-enter the lodge.

Wrapped in Darrah's big blanket robe she got off the bed and opened her chamber door as Wier was passing through the living room.

"Elease, I'd like to speak to you a moment," she called.

Wier turned instantly and came to the partly open door.

"I want to know," she said, "where I am."

"Ma'am?"

"What is this place?"

"What's a hatchery—?"

"Ma'am?"

"Whose lodge is this? Does it belong to Harrod Place?"

"We're hootch runners, Miss," stammered Wier, mindful of instructions, but making a poor business of deception; "I and Hal Smith, we run a 'Easy one' and we strip trout for a blind and sell to Harrod Place—Hal and I—"

"Who is Hal Smith?" she asked.

"Ma'am?"

The girl's flower-blue eyes turned icy: "Who is the man who robbed Sard—and now Lannis hastened back to find and mount his horse, and gallop straight into the first growth?"

"Is he a Trooper in plain clothes?" she demanded in a bitter voice. "Is he one of the Commissioner's spies? Are you one, too?"

Wier gazed miserably at her, unable to formulate a convincing reply.

"Is this Harrod property? Is Hal Smith old Harrod's heir? Is he?"

"My God, Miss—"

"Listen, Miss—"

She flung open the door and came into the living room.

"Hal Smith is that nephew of old Harrod," she said calmly. "His name is Darrah. And you are one of his wardens. . . . And I can't stay here. Do you understand?"

Wier wiped his hot face and waited. The cat was out; there was a hole in the bag; and he knew there was no use in such lies as he could tell.

He said: "All I know, Miss, is that I was to look after you and get you whatever you want—"

"I want my clothes!"

"My clothes!" she repeated impatiently. "I've got to have them."

"Where are they, ma'am?" asked the bewildered man.

At the same moment the girl's eyes fell on a pile of men's sport-clothing—garments sent down from Harrod Place to the lodge—lying on a leather rug.

Without a glance at Wier, Eve went to the heap of clothing, tossed it about, selected certain two pairs of woolen socks, gray shirt, puttees, shoes, flung the garments through the door into her own room, followed them, and locked herself in.

When she was dressed—the two heavy pairs of socks helping to fit her feet to the shoes—she emptied her handful of diamonds, sapphires and emeralds, including the flaming jewel, into the pockets of her breeches.

Now she was ready. She unlocked her door and went out, scarcely limping at all, now, and she gazed at her helplessly as she coolly chose a rifle and cartridge-belt at the gun rack.

Then she turned on him as still and dangerous as a young puma.

"Tell Darrah he'd better keep clear of Clinch's," she said. "Tell him I always thought he was a rat. Now I know he's one."

She plunged one slim hand into her pocket and drew out a diamond.

"Here," she said insolently. "This will pay your gentleman for his gun and clothing."

She tossed the gem onto the table, where it rolled, glittering.

"For heaven's sake, Miss—"

burst out Wier, horrified, but she cut him short:

"—He may keep the change," she said. "We're no swindlers at Clinch's Dump!"

Wier started forward as though to intercede for Eve's eyes flamed. And he stood still, she wrenched open the door and walked out among the silver birches.

At the edge of the brook she stood a moment, coolly looking the magazine of her rifle. Then, with one swift glance of hatred, flung at the place that Harrod's money had built, she sprang across the brook, tossed her rifle to her shoulder, and passed lithely into the golden wilderness of aspen and silver birch.

ADVICE ON PROPOSALS

No. 26—School Districts. Vote Yes.
No. 27—Initiative. Vote No.
No. 28—Prohibiting Vivisection. Vote No.
No. 29—Land Franchise Taxation. Vote No.
No. 30—Franchise. Vote No.

With today's installment, The Register completes its advice on how to vote on the thirty proposals that are to appear on the ballot next Tuesday. The Register recognizes that most of the proposals are debatable, and in reaching the decisions it has reached The Register keeps its columns open to a presentation of the views of any resident of the county who desires to urge voters to vote in variance with The Register's advice. The communications ought to be as brief as possible, and they ought to reach The Register office not later than Saturday afternoon.

The first of the proposals to be discussed editorially today is No. 26, entitled School Districts. If passed, a school district lying partly in one county and partly in another, as does the Lowell Joint district in La Habra valley, will be able to issue bonds, concerning which legal doubt would now be raised. It is a technical measure, but advisable. Vote Yes.

No. 27 is known as the Initiative. It proposes to raise the number of signatures necessary to initiate legislation from eight per cent to fifteen per cent on taxation measures. If raised to fifteen per cent, the initiative can be invoked only by organizations having large sums under their control. The ordinary groups of citizens would be unable to handle the initiative on taxation at all. This measure is advanced as a measure to head off having to vote on the "Single Tax" measure every two years. As a matter of fact, it would not head off the single-taxers, who have an endorsement large enough for them to gain a fifteen per cent petition. Also, as a matter of fact, another purpose back of the movement is to kill the initiative, which was won by a three to one vote under Hiram W. Johnson's leadership in 1911. To those who believe in the direct primary, the initiative, referendum and recall as bulwarks of democracy, the passage of this measure would be a backward step. Vote No.

The Register advises that No. 28, prohibiting Vivisection, be defeated. Scientific education, practice and progress would be seriously handicapped by the passage of this act. Agricultural and health authorities of the state are a unit in declaring the measure to be a menace. There are ample laws now in California on which to found prosecutions for cruelty to animals, and the passage of this measure, while binding the hands of science, would reduce animal suffering negligibly and might increase human suffering greatly. Vote No on No. 28.

No. 29, entitled on the ballot "Land Franchise Taxation," is the single tax measure. Two years ago a similar proposal was defeated in this state by 350,000 votes. This measure is even more radical than the proposal that was defeated. The effect of the act will be to destroy the value of real estate. Vote No.

The purpose back of No. 30, Franchises, is commendable, but there are phases of the situation that makes the measure, in the opinion of The Register, doubtful. The California Real Estate association advanced the measure for the purpose of compelling street railway lines to extend their lines to serve newly built territory. In short, the plan is to put the street railways under the control of the State railroad commission. This means that municipalities would lose control of the railways. Franchises could be granted without a city's consent, and the city would lose income now paid by railway companies as a city franchise tax, based on gross receipts. The Register believes that local control of street railways is advisable, if for no other purpose than to maintain complete control of the streets. Vote No on No. 30.

VOTE YES ON WRIGHT ACT

An affirmative vote for the Wright Act, appearing as No. 2 on the ballot means among other things:

1. That California voters are as loyal to the Constitution and the Eighteenth amendment as the legislature which adopted this act.
2. That California will maintain her patriotic position for law and order.
3. That the good results which have come from partial enforcement of the prohibition law will be increased.
4. That the policemen, constables and sheriffs already in office and paid by the California taxpayers, will be authorized to arrest bootleggers, rum-runners and other illicit liquor dealers.
5. That no extra expense will be incurred by the adoption of the Wright act, but that the existing peace officers will be utilized for the enforcement of the law without additional salary or costs.
6. That all fines collected in the prosecution of the enforcement act will be paid to the counties instead of to the federal government, thus giving an added source of revenue for the payment of county expenses.

The question before the voters of California is fundamentally one of law and order. All the branches of the government, state and federal, including the legislative, executive and judicial branches have gone on record for law enforcement. If laws, when enacted by the orderly processes of government, cannot be enforced the representative republican government will be pointed to as a failure. Such a government is safe and prosperous only while the majority of the citizens are patriotic and law-abiding.

Your vote yes on No. 2 means that your influence as a citizen is on the side of law and order. A vote against the Wright Act will hinder the efforts of law enforcement in California and will bring the great state of California in the light of refusing to assist the federal government in the enforcement of this federal law.

GAS ENGINES FOR SHIPS

For a dozen years internal combustion engines of the Diesel type have been tested in small sea-going craft and have been watched with interest. Marine engineers have commented favorably upon their advantages and their progressive development, but the belief has been general that the geared steam turbine was the last word in propulsion at sea.

Now word comes from London that one of the greatest of Glasgow shipyards has just contracted to build, for the Union Steamship Line of New Zealand, a 600-foot, eighteen-knot liner which is to be propelled by internal combustion engines. At last, it is reported, men have learned to construct engines of this type which can be depended on to produce as much power as the geared turbine. Says the London dispatch:

"If the Union Steamship Company's vessel proves a success on the run between New Zealand and Vancouver, there can be no reason of an engineering character for the use of the steam engines on any steamship lines. There may be economic reasons, associated with the cost of fuel and the convenience of fueling stations, but that is another matter. The first-class, motor-propelled Atlantic liner is well within sight."

The steam engine has ruled the sea now for near a century, less because it was cheap than because it was dependable. If the ship-builders in the Clyde can succeed in propelling big, fast ships with Diesel engines which are not only dependable but supremely economical in operation, here is big news indeed.

HE WILL KEEP BUSY

Nobody expects Lloyd George to withdraw from public life and quit all activity. He is not built that way. His nervous driving energy will keep him busy. One may easily guess that Lloyd George will always be busy, even when old age claims him.

The best doctors do not advise a busy, active man to retire shortly and entirely merely because he has reached the age when men are supposed to retire. Such retirement has been found to be surprisingly unfortunate. Many such men die within a year of stopping work, chiefly because of the abrupt let-down of their accustomed activity and a morbid stagnation of their activity.

Not that Lloyd George is at the age when he might be expected to retire. With men like him, that age never comes.

Right Kind of Zoning

Riverside Enterprise
There has been quite a lot of talk recently about zoning in Riverside for the proper distribution of industrial, business and residential improvements. Each of these has its place and the common council should see to it that proper zoning ordinances are passed. An emergency measure was placed on its first reading last Tuesday covering a large territory south of the arroyo and in the Poly High, Jurupa, Brockton avenue section. It embraces about 170 acres. It was not given adequate consideration for a permanent measure and although it may serve its purpose temporarily, if it is passed on Tuesday, it should be reconsidered immediately, and a careful zoning ordinance passed for the whole city.

A zoning plan, like the selection of city hall lots, is not anything that is to be accepted in a half baked condition. On the other hand, like a city hall, a zoning plan is essential for the welfare of any community. We have been altogether too long without both. Neither should be influenced in the slightest by the personal interests of any individual or individuals or any set of people but should be in the interests of the entire city, with permanent attractiveness, beauty and utility carefully considered.

Central America a Friend

Pasadena Star-News
The government at Washington has invited five Central American republics to meet in conference to promote friendly relations among themselves and with the United States. This may prove to be a momentous meeting. It may be the forerunner of other conferences of Latin American republics, to foster a spirit of friendliness and concern among the sister nations south of the United States.

It is noteworthy that there has been a much more pacific attitude down there, within the last few years. There have been fewer mushroom "revolutions," too. In a word, the republics are taking their cue from the United States and are living at peace with their neighbors and are discountenancing internal insurrections.

The influence of the United States has been and is potent in promoting this more pacific attitude. Since the building of the Panama Canal the interest and influence of the United States in the countries adjacent to that great waterway have increased and have had greater effect upon conditions there. This country frowns upon unnecessary wars and revolutions there, and Uncle Sam's frown is not relished by those little republics, hence they are keeping the peace.

For Sloane and Shurtleff

Stockton Record
Four candidates present themselves for associate justice of the supreme court. There are two places to be filled. William A. Sloane and Charles Shurtleff, whose terms expire, are seeking to succeed themselves. Frank H. Kerrigan, a member of the district court of appeals in San Francisco, and Emmett Seawell, a superior court judge of Sonoma county, are contesting with the incumbents. The Record understands that the terms of both Kerrigan and Seawell in their present official positions have several years yet to run. Should they fall this time to gratify their laudable ambitions for advancement to the highest court in California, their tenure of office will be unaffected.

As a general policy the Record believes that officials who have proved able and true should be rewarded for faithfulness to trust by return to office. This policy, we believe, is particularly applicable to our courts. Both Justices Shurtleff and Sloane have eminent qualifications for the high places they now hold and there seems to be no good reason for turning them out of office. Confidence in them has not been misplaced. The voter can make no mistake in stamping a cross after the names of Shurtleff and Sloane next Tuesday.

California—His Only Boss

Odds and Ends

HORSESHOES

Our nation still has twice as many horses as autos. The autos may be more economical than the horse. However—

The census shows that the country has only 12 horseshoe-making establishments, and the horseshoes they turn out are worth only $1,931,812 a year.

In other words, a year's supply of shoes for one horse is worth about 10 cents when it leaves the factory. Compare this with tires, which are as autos what iron shoes are to horses. The auto's superiority over the horse, financially, is not in the point of contact with the ground.

GEORGE

A prophet is not without honor save in his own country. On all sides you hear much good said about Lloyd George, very little against him. He has more friends and admirers in America than in England, would be re-elected if Americans did the voting. So much for the value, or loss, due to perspective.

VOTING

From nearly all sections of the country come reports of "light registration." This is deadly poison for democracy. We neglect what the pioneers shed their blood for—the right to vote. Czechoslovakia makes voting compulsory, by law. We may have to come to it. The man who doesn't vote is the first to howl when public affairs are mishandled.

SENSE

Glenn Frank, editor of Century Magazine magazine, says he notices three distinct classes of people—pessimists, optimists and rationalists.

The future hinges on the rationalists, Frank thinks. There is such a thing as too much optimism, the same as too much pessimism. The happy medium is rationalism, or common sense. In the long run it prevails—but usually after the mischief is done and "It's too late."

PRICES

Prices are not apt to drop to what they were before the war, for 10 years at least, reports Prof. Charles J. Bullock. He is chairman of Harvard University's committee on economic research, one of the leaders among business forecasters.

After the War of 1912 and the Civil War, it took prices about 30 years to drop to normal. The low point of prices occurs, roughly, every 50 years. The last low point was 1896. By precedent, prices of 1896 may repeat in 1946. New and unprecedented conditions, however, may break the rule.

Worth While Verse

THE LIFEBOAT

'Tis sweet to behold, when the billows are sleeping,
Some gay-colored bark moving gracefully by;
No damp on her cheek but the even-tide's weeping,
No breath in her sails but the summer-wind's sigh.

Yet who would not turn, with a fonder emotion,
To gaze on the lifeboat, though rugged and worn,
Which often hath wafted, o'er hills of the ocean,
The lost light of hope to the seamen forlorn!

Oh! Grant that of those who in life's sunny slumber Around us like summer barks idly have played,
When storms are abroad we may find in the number One friend, like the lifeboat, to fly to our aid.

—Thomas Moore.

IN THE LONG AGO

From the Register Files

NOVEMBER 3, 1908

John Cubbon's new Tourist auto was taken from his home last night, used by joyriders and left in the Santa Ana river bed. Other machines taken by joyriders recently are those owned by C. W. Bowers and W. A. Huff.

Sidney Wright came near having his neck broken when his arm caught in a carrier belt at J. W. Sackman's brickyard. Wright's neck came against a scantling. Someone kicked out the scantling and saved Wright's life.

City Clerk Ed. Tedford, Street Superintendent C. R. Ward and Water Works Superintendent Ransom Reid were chosen the city's delegates to the convention of the California League of Municipalities at Pasadena.

The Edison company has refused to place gas pipes on South Main before the street is paved, saying that not enough residents on the street have agreed to take gas to make laying a main pay.

Robert Cogburn and Mr. Swartzel are employed at $2.50 a day to inspect paving being laid on South Main.

Three of Santa Ana's musicians appeared in recital at Plano Normal, Los Angeles. They are Miss Virginia Johnston, Mrs. A. J. Padgham and Miss Mary Wakeham.

The Eskimoes

1
The Eskimoes are northern fokes
Who live in caves of ice
And wats it our bizness how cold it is
As long as they think it nice?

They have snow and ice all summer long
And also in spring and fall,
But naturally in the winter time
They have most of all.

3
The ice and snow keep each other cold
And the days are 6 months long.
So naturally if you miss one day
It must feel as if something was rong.

4
All Eskimoes dress in bear skins
In their efforts to keep warm,
And altho they may feel comfortable
It makes them thick eround the form.

5
The air up there is too cold for fruit
Or even smaller things sutch as beans
So one of their favorite foods is wales.
The opposite of sardoons.

Dr. Peryl Magill Urges No. 20 Be Passed So Osteopaths May Be Free From Medical Board

Editor Register: The Osteopathic profession accepted the educational standards of the present Medical Practice Act before it became a law of the state. We have always met the educational requirements and have never asked to have them lowered. We do not want them lowered and the Osteopathic Act No. 20 has no reference to standards of education and cannot possibly lower them. It simply establishes a Board of Osteopathic Examiners to administer the present "Medical Practice Act" to Osteopaths only. And is proposed solely as a means of relief from the abuse of power exercised by the Board of Medical Examiners.

The present Physicians' and Surgeons' law is all right. Its administration is all wrong. The law is non-partisan. Its administration is deadly partisan.

Our act, if passed, will not change the present high standard of Osteopathic education, neither will it change the health laws of the state. All physicians of all schools are under jurisdiction of the Board of Health and must conform to its ruling. The Board of Health must not be confounded with the Board of Medical Examiners. The Medical Board performs no public health function whatever and has nothing to do with enforcing the health laws of the state. Its sole function is to license and revoke licenses to practice.

Our act in no way changes the power of the Board of Health, or of the state and federal narcotic enforcement boards, or of any other board, except that it removes osteopaths from the power of medical doctors and puts them under jurisdiction of competent osteopaths. Medical colleges and graduates are left as now, under the jurisdiction of medical doctors. Our board will have no control over any other system of healing.

We believe that each system should be free to develop without restriction from any other system. We ask no special privilege. We ask only to be freed from the shackles of the medical board so that our science may grow and develop its greatest possible usefulness to mankind.

And why are we asking for this change?

Because, since the very beginning of this present regime, in 1913, the Board of Medical Examiners has undertaken to administer the Medical Practice Act to the destruction of Osteopathic educational institutions.

As late as 1919 the biased medical doctors who rule the board by a vote of 8 to 2 refused to examine any more osteopaths for a physicians' or surgeons' license. The Osteopathic college brought suit to compel the board to examine its students. The superior court after an exhaustive trial and investigation decided in favor of the college and ordered the board to admit its graduates for examination.

Two sentences from the court's findings of fact are of particular interest. They are:

"That said college has in all respects complied with all of the requirements of said act with reference to colleges and has complied with all of the requirements of said board and is entitled to be approved by said respondent board as an institution qualifying applicants to take an examination for physician and surgeon certificates."

"That at the time of such refusal of said board to approve such college as hereinabove alleged, said college was in all respects maintaining a high standard of instruction to its students in all of the courses of study and branches of knowledge."

edge hereinbefore mentioned and set forth and then had and still has more material resources, a larger and more efficient teaching force, an increased equipment, a larger library and much improved clinical facilities over what said college had and maintained during the time of its approval by said board as an institution qualifying its graduates for examination for physicians' and surgeon certificates. So after waiting over a year and a half for relief through the courts our students were again "allowed" to take the physicians' and surgeons' examinations.

Judging from past history our relief is only temporary, as under the present condition the board can on the slightest pretext refuse to examine our graduates again and it either means long continued court battles or closing our college doors.

We who are licensed are safe, but can we graduate more osteopaths in the future?

That there may be more and better osteopathic physicians in the future vote Yes on No. 20.

DR. PERYL B. MAGILL,

The Problem

By Bern Brasley
Gillette and Durham-Duplex, Gem, And Ever-Ready, all are fine; We slip their meed of praise to them.

They work according to design.

They shave the young, they shave the old.

They mow thick beards of many shades;

But where's the thing we would be told,

Where are we gonna put the blades?

Not in the ash-can may they go,

Nor in the garbage, nor the street,

Where motors ramble to and fro.

And people tread with hurrying feet;

They will not burn, they won't decay.

Until the sun in heaven fades,

And so they pile up, day by day;

Say, where we gonna put the blades?

You cannot keep them safely hid

In any chest, or any shelf,

But what some energetic kid

Will find them there and cut himself.

Dropped in the sea, the surging tide

Bears them where some blithe bather wades;

The world, it's true, is very wide,

But where we gonna put those blades?

Oh, Einstein, use your master-mind.

Call in your scholars and your aids,

And solve this problem of our kind,

Where shall we put our razor blades?

Adventures of The Twins

The Queen of Hearts

By Olive Roberts Barton

The Twins crawled along the old man's beard, right through the sky from Mars to Jupiter.

They were searching still for Mother Goose's broom.

When they arrived, they unhooked the end of the old man's beard from the star point where it had caught when he threw it, and the last they saw of him, he was winding it up again on his garden-hose wheel.

"Thank you!" called Nancy and Nick, waving their hands.

"You're welcome!" answered the old man waving back to them.

Jupiter was a queer place, just as queer as Mars, but much bigger. The children looked around curiously.

Suddenly someone came toward them, running as fast as he could. When he saw them he stopped suddenly and put his hands behind his back.

"Who're you?" he demanded.

"Nancy and Nick," answered the little boy quickly. "I know who you are. I can tell by your hat. You're the Knave of Hearts and you've stolen the queen's tarts. You've got them now."

Just then the queen herself came running up, all out of breath, her crown on one side of her head and her kitchen apron untied. "Oh, you rascals!" she cried. "Give me those tarts at once. I made them for my tea party this afternoon for King Cole and the King and Queen of Six Pence. The poor things get so tired of bread and honey, I thought I'd give them a treat. And now you've stolen two."

The Knave of Hearts looked guilty and handed them over.

"And now, my dears, what are you after?" asked the good queen.

"Mother Goose's broom!" said Nancy. "She's lost it."

"I wish I had it this very minute," declared the queen, looking at her son sternly.
